Begin Demonstration Off Venezuela Coast

LOOKS LIKE BLOCKADE

Holland Takes Action Because of Inability to Obtain Settlement

United States Has No Representative in Country—Has Castro Gone for Good?

Paris, Dec. 5.—In the belief that President Castro of Venezuela, has fled his own country to escape the consequences of threatened war with Holland and Venezuela, the French government is reported today as having sent word to officials of all French posts to escort him across the frontier, should he land in France.

Willemstad, Dec. 5.—Having been unable to obtain an amicable settlement of outstanding differences with Venezuela, The Netherlands government has begun a naval demonstration off the coast of the South American republic, and since Wednesday vessels flying the Dutch flag have steamed from Puerto Cabello to La Guaira at a distance of 3000 yards from the shore.

The battleship Jacob Van Heemskerck and the cruisers Gelderland and Friesland, were engaged in the operation which, it is said, will continue indefinitely. The two cruisers had proceeded to Maracaibo, it was believed the Gelderland "at" Maracaibo Monday.

With steam up in all her boilers the Heemskerck arrived off La Guaira at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning. As soon as the battleship was in sight all the lights in the city were extinguished. From the deck could be seen the guns ashore pointed toward the battleship, which was kept ready for action. The Heemskerck remained but one day off La Guaira and yesterday proceeded up the coast and passed between the shore and small sandy islands in the Bay of Puerto Cabello off the city of Puerto Cabello.

The demonstration is regarded as indicating that the preparations for an effective blockade of the Venezuelan coast are complete.

It is reported here that The Netherlands battleship De Ruijter has left Holland for this port.

MAKING FACES AT VENEZUELA.

Washington, Dec. 5.—"Holland seems to be making faces at Venezuela," was the comment when the news came from Willemstad that the Netherlands government warships had been making a demonstration off Venezuelan coast. Nobody in Washington appears to have been advised of this latest move, as neither the state department nor Mr. Louden, the Netherlands minister, has any information on the subject. The state department is without any diplomatic representation in Venezuela and such brief advices that have come from there since the legation was closed have been from a clerk, who was left in charge of the archives.

GERMAN SHIPS EXPECTED.

London, Dec. 5.—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at The Hague says that a dispatch has been received there that a newspaper in Curacao learns that German warships are expected at Curacao at the beginning of January, and says that it is certain that the United States will staunchly support Holland against Venezuela.

DOCTOR NOT INFORMED.

Bordeaux, Dec. 5.—Dr. Roussin, the proprietor of the only sanitarium here, where an operation on President Castro is proposed, is a personal friend of Dr. Israel of Berlin, and a specialist in kidney diseases. Up to the present time he has not been notified that Dr. Israel purposes to operate on President Castro.

HAITIANS QUARRELING OVER THE PRESIDENCY

Port Au Prince, Dec. 5.—With three avowed candidates for the Haitian presidency now approaching the city, and two receptive candidates already on the scene, it is believed General Simon, who led the uprising against President Nord Alexis, will have to assume the reins of government to insure peace. Otherwise a serious clash is threatened between the followers of General Fouchard and Firmon. Other presidential boons can be easily disposed of.

CRUISER YANKEE RAISED ONLY TO SINK AGAIN

New Bedford, Mass., Dec. 5.—The United States cruiser Yankee on the way to this port under tow of tugs, after being successfully floated yesterday by John Arbuckles compressed air scheme, sank again this morning in 41 feet of water off Pennikese island. The crew of 80 was taken off without loss after being obliged to flee to the rigging. The trouble was caused by heavy seas which snapped some tow cables and blew out the air port which permitted flooding the compartment containing the compressors. The vessel lies in a good position and can be floated again.

CO-OPERATION PROMISED BY THE PRESIDENT-ELECT

Pittsburg, Dec. 5.—A message from President-elect Taft promising co-operation in the work was read at the opening of the American mining congress today. He said this country's very rich resources has "helped develop the national habit of waste in the use of forests, soils, minerals and other resources. Fortunately, however, public consciences are awakening to both the loss of life and waste materials in all of our industries and we must see to it that the movement is guided wisely and carried forward to success."

SEC'Y OF WAR WRIGHT TO REMAIN IN CABINET

Washington, Dec. 5.—Secretary of War Wright will remain in that position in Taft's cabinet until near the end of next year when he will be succeeded by Charles E. Magoon, now governor of Cuba. The latter's services in Cuba end January 23, when the island will be turned over to the newly elected officers. He will then make a tour of investigation of the Philippines.

LAD OF 12, CAR ROBBER

Cleveland, O., Dec. 5.—When brought before Judge Adams yesterday afternoon, Robert Murphy, aged 12, confessed that he had broken into 41 Lake Shore cars. When he admitted that he had burned a barn because the owner refused to pay him 50 cents for working about the yard.

BRING SUIT AGAINST MAYOR.

Canton, Dec. 5.—Claiming that their nerves were undermined by the sudden appearance of officers in their home and the brandishing of revolvers, two suits for $5000 each were begun by Henry and Kate Reynolds of Sebring against Mayor R. K. Jones of that place. Two petitioners relate that the officers were of the opinion that the plaintiffs were guilty of hiding a felon.

HEADS SPLIT OPEN WITH AX.

Trinidad, Colo., Dec. 5.—Their heads split open with an ax, four members of the Cosmo Garcia family were found in beds at the home of Criso Creek, east of here. The dead are: Mrs. Vivana Garcia, 53, Cosmo Garcia, 57, Tarrivia Garcia, 25, and Luz Gerie, an elderly woman who made her home with the family. They evidently had been murdered Wednesday or Thursday.

DOMESTIC TROUBLE

CAUSE OF DOUBLE SUICIDE SHORTLY AFTER HUSBAND WAS PARDONED FROM PEN.

Couple Drink Carbolic Acid and Man Falls Across the Body of His Wife.

Bridgeport, Dec. 5.—William Shorts, who recently was pardoned from the Ohio penitentiary after serving three years for shooting his sweetheart, last night drank carbolic acid and fell upon the body of his wife, who 20 minutes before had committed suicide by the same method. The double tragedy was the result of domestic trouble following the finding by Shorts of his wife with her former lover yesterday. The coroner and police think Shorts made his wife drink the acid he purchased, agreeing with her to end his own life after she was dead.

After his wife died Shorts arranged with an undertaker to bury his wife without charge, on the plea that he had no money, then hurried home and swallowed the acid in the presence of half a dozen distracted relatives of the dead woman, just as the undertaker entered the door. Shorts was 44 years old and a bartender.

DAVIS TRIAL

Drawing to a Close, and Defendant Will Not Take Stand in His Own Behalf.

Omaha, Dec. 5.—With the disappearance of Mrs. Rice from the line of light, the crowd attending the Chas. Davis murder trial dwindled today. The defense is having its innings. Several witnesses testified to prove the Davis alibi. It is announced the defendant will not take the stand. It is said he told all he knew at the inquest. It is believed the defense will rest after today's adjournment.

WRECKAGE

Indicates That Steamer Tampa Is Lost With a Crew of Seventeen Men.

Sault Ste. Marie, Dec. 5.—But little doubt remains that the wreckage reported by nosing vessels of Crisp and Vermillion Point on Lake Superior, is that of the steamer Tampa owned in Detroit. The Tampa was bound for Fort William, Ont., with coal. Five days elapsed since it left the Soo, and no word received. The vessel carried 17 men and it is feared all are lost.

FURIOUS

Hurricane Claimed Big Excursion Boat

TWENTY-EIGHT PERISH

Parts of Wrecked Steamer Soo City Washed Ashore

Was on Way from Michigan City to New Orleans—List of the Crew.

St. Johns, N. F., Dec. 5.—Wreckage which has come ashore at Cape Ray leaves little room for doubt that the excursion steamer, "Soo City," went down with her crew in a gale on the Newfoundland coast. The steamer was in command of Captain John G. Dillon of Brooklyn. A wife and three small children awaited his return home. It is believed 28 persons perished.

The "Soo City" was recently sold by the Indiana Transportation company to Felix Jackson of Velasco, Texas, and was being taken to New Orleans, where it had been planned to put her in service between that city and Texas ports.

The steamer sailed from Michigan City, November 1, and reached Ogdensburg, November 11. She was last reported at Quebec on November 14. A week later, when nothing had been heard, much anxiety was felt, and on Wednesday last the vessel was listed by the Maritime Exchange among the missing.

Yesterday a deck cable and fittings and 16 life-preservers came ashore. These all bore the name "Soo City." During the day life buoys, deck board and other gear unquestionably belonging to the steamer were washed ashore.

The storm that wrecked the "Soo City" was one of the severest of recent years. It began Tuesday night with a northern gale that continued for 48 hours, assuming at times the shape of a blizzard. The same gale caught and drove to pieces no less than 19 Newfoundland fishing vessels and 17 persons perished.

LIST OF THE CREW.

Chicago, Dec. 5.—W. K. Greenbaum, general manager of the Indiana Transportation company, today gave out the following list of the crew of the "Soo City," which has been lost at sea:

Mate, Angus McIntyre, Chicago; first engineer, Charles Warwick, Michigan City, Ind.; second engineer, N. J. Duncan, Chicago; purser, Jas. Anderson, Montague, Mich.; oilers, Frank Kelley, Alpena, Mich., and George Brown, Chicago; firemen, Frank Schwinn, Michigan City, Ind., and Samuel Olebsky, Chicago; coal passers, E. L. Weaver, Dowagiac, Mich., and another man, name unknown to Mr. Greenbaum, who shipped at Ogdensburg, N. Y.; chief, Max Sanders, Chicago; second cook, Chas. Warner, Chicago.

VOTING DRY
HELPS A CITY

Experience of Decatur, Ill.—A City Same Size As Newark.

John A. Montgomery,
Lawyer,
Office, 713-714 Millikin Building, Decatur, Ill.

Decatur, Ill., Dec. 3, 1908.
Mr. Chas. W. Montgomery, Newark, Ohio:

Dear Sir—Having many acquaintances, friends and relatives in Licking county, I am naturally interested in your local option fight. I learned from Newark papers, which have been sent to me, that the liquor forces
are using the same arguments, viz.:
Local Option does not decrease drunkenness, and voting out the saloons ruins business.

The claim that abolishing saloons
would kill Decatur was a great bugaboo in our local option campaign,
but seven months' experience without saloons proves this claim to be absolutely false. Decatur is about the size of Newark—35,000—and we had 63 saloons that closed their doors May 8, 1908. Our police record of arrests before and after is an unanswerable refutation to the claim of more drunks under local option than with saloons. It is a well known fact, that under the saloon regime that scores of drunks are never seen by the police, being lodged in the back of saloons by friends,
until sober, but with local option
there is no saloon to harbor the drunk, and he falls into the hands of the police. Again, under the saloon regime, the police does not arrest the drunk unless he disturbs
the peace, while under local option
he is generally taken in if he staggers. And then again, our present city administration is not in sympathy with local option, but notwithstanding all of this, there have only been 204 arrests for drunkenness
during the past seven months of local option, as compared with 601
for the same period last year, and of the 204 arrests fully 50 per cent.
were drunks, who came in on the inturbans from other towns.

The only business in our city that has been hurt by voting out the saloons is the saloon business. All of our bankers unite in saying that business was never better. The president of the second largest bank in the city, says: "This year shows the high-water mark in our institution;
we are doing the best business in our history." The bank clearings for November, 1908, amounted to over $300,000 more than for the same month in 1907. Our leading wholesale grocers say their volume of business has been as large as on 1906—
the best year of their history—and that their collections were never better than now. This same thing is true of the retail grocers, who generally unite in saying that collections were never so easy as at present.

One of our leading shoe-dealers,
who, by the way, was a bitter opponent to local option, admits that his business has increased over 12 per cent. for the same period last year, and that he lost one week in moving from his former location which he considered the best in the
who was also a bitter opponent of city. A leading furniture dealer local option, believing that it would kill the town, says that he has chamed his mind in regard to local option. All of the buildings that were occupied by saloons in the business district, were promptly leased for legitimate business, many of them at a greatly increased rental—one at $40.00 a month increase. One of the largest real estate men of the city, states that $1000.00 has been offered as a bonus for a five-year lease on Water street, since the local option election, and has been refused. A building, which was owned by a man who was bitterly opposed to local option, and rented for $1500.00 a year, has since been leased for five years at an annual rental of $2400.00. The same party owned a building which he paid $29,000.00
for two years ago, and now holds
it at $35,000.00.

One of the daily papers stated recently that on that day the interurban and steam lines brought 2000 shoppers to our city. People are coming to Decatur to shop who might go to the surrounding cities but prefer because they are not annoyed
in going home with drunken men on the interurbans. The saloon and gambling element of our city since the adoption of local option, have gone to neighboring cities that unfortunately voted wet. Springfield's terrible riot that cost the city $100,000 can be traced almost directly to a few whiskey infuriated leaders.

Decatur is far from being a dead
town. A representative of the principal interurban systems in the state, which touches nearly all of our principal towns, says, that Decatur is the most prosperous, most progressive and most attractive city on the line. Our new directory shows an increase of 1000 inhabitants in a year. Don't let the argument that voting the saloon out will kill business frighten your people. It is the veriest rot.

With best wishes for your success,
I am,
Yours truly,
(adv) JOHN A. MONTGOMERY.

VOTE "WET"
MONDAY SAYS
A TAXPAYER

Newark never has known hard times, but the county, city and citizens will fully realize it if prohibition carries what it will mean to be without money.

The business man will lose a large amount of business; many workmen will lose their jobs; many will leave Newark—and farmers will lose their rich and extensive markets for their product.

Voters, do you wish vacant store-
rooms; vacant houses and hungry men and women to confront you at every step, asking for the work you cannot give them?

Can the prohibitionists give the hundreds of idle men here, work
now? Can they give a greater number of work? Can they pay the deficit in the treasury?

We cannot do without the workingman. He creates the most extensive market. They will leave in hundreds to seek other homes and begin anew, should Licking county vote dry.

Think what it is to be forced to leave your home in the dead of winter, with little or no money and begin anew.

Think, voter, what you force upon the citizen of the county by such measures.

It is a direct blow to the prosperity of Licking county and Newark to allow one family to leave because they cannot live here. Keep all citizens here. Get more; make former ones come back and make them stay.
Licking county and Newark are very gratified to Mr. Everett and other manufacturers for what they have done for our locality, and the loss of the bottle works or any other manufacturing concern would be a serious blow.

Mr. Everett and any other manufacturer who employs a lot of men
do more to keep men from drinking than all the prohibitionists in the land.

Idleness causes drink. Give a man work and the majority will leave liquor alone.

To make palms thrive in an ordinary sitting room sponge the leaves once a week with lukewarm water to which a little milk has been added. Then stand the plant for two hours in lukewarm water deep enough to completely cover
the pot. This is the proper way to wa-

FRIEND OF
MR. EVERETT

Writes Reply to Recent Attack Appearing in the Public Print—What a Taxpayer Says.

When Mr. E. H. Everett published his mild and courteous protest against County Option, it was little expected that two prominent citizens would put their heads together and reply to him
in an insulting manner, in an article teeming with venom and cunning meanness and arraigning him as though he had no right to his opinion
—a right reserved to every citizen.

Mr. Everett came to Newark several years ago and purchased a plant owned by Newark men which had tailed and closed its doors and through his business talents and great energy has built an industry which has contributed more to the advancement and welfare of Newark
than all other influences combined.
It was Mr. Everett too who developed the great gas fields of Licking county,
bringing to our farmers each year
thousands of dollars which only for his pluck and courage they never might have enjoyed.

With a pay roll supporting hundreds of families, on whose patronage
today many of our merchants depend, he certainly is the last man in Newark to be reviled. His private life also has been marked by great generosity and kindness which certainly are not the distinguishing traits of Newark's reformers. Newark contains many good men but goodness without generosity and sympathy and companionship, which only eats and drinks and figures interest accurately, may take a man to heaven but not to Missouri; nor will
it help much in a great moral uplift.
The trouble is that goodness can sometimes be mean and narrow and selfish and stingy and several other things and yet be goodness. In fact we have too many Christian speakers.

Contrast Mr. Everett's citizenship with the men who revile him. They say (these good men) with stupid irrelevancy and meaning that instead of giving Newark a Library he is going to give us the saloons.

Should Mr. Everett pass away today his legacy to Newark would be a magnificent money distributing enterprise, but should the gentlemen who have needlessly stung and insulted
him die today what legacy in the way of Park or Library would they leave the people of Newark to enjoy? It's to be hoped none, as otherwise we would all fall dead.

A TAX-PAYER.

THE GUILLOTINE.

It Was Not Invented by the Man Whose Name It Bears.

In a book published by Hector Fleischman in Germany the story of the origin of the instrument of execution which was named for Dr. Guillotin in the days of the reign of terror is flatly denied. "There is no truth
in the story, so long believed," he says,
"that the genial old physician invented
the machine which was named for him and by means of which he is said to have lost his life shortly after its adoption. Guillotin, in keeping with the spirit of his time, proposed on Oct.
10, 1793, that all offenders, regardless of their birth or station, should be dealt with alike by the law, and six months later he proposed to the government that convicted murderers should be beheaded by means of a simple apparatus. The mechanism of which he and no one else had any idea at that time
was spoken of as the 'simple apparatus' by the humorists of the day, and the phrase was used to make its proposer ridiculous, so that when a machine finally was adopted the wits of the time named it guillotine. The government, evidently recognizing the value of the suggestion, asked one Antoine Louis, a surgeon at the Salpe-triere, to devise a machine and later gave a similar order to a carpenter by the name of Guindon, who offered to construct an instrument for decapitation for 5,600 livres. This was considered too high a price, and the contract was given to a German cabinetmaker
by the name of Tobias Schmidt, who received 824 livres for the accepted model in 1792. Schmidt made guillotines for all the provinces, and the industry brought him a moderate fortune, which he proceeded to squander in Paris, while Dr. Guillotin, who never had anything to do with the making of a machine which bore his name,
continued to practice his profession
quietly and unostentatiously in Paris
until he died there on March 26, 1814."

No Dispute Whatever.

A man and his wife were sitting their troubles on a sidewalk one Saturday evening, when a good Samaritan intervened, according to Everybody's Magazine.

"See here, my man," he protested,
"this sort of thing won't do."
"What business is it of yours, I'd like to know?" snarled the man, turning from his wife.

"It's only my business in so far as I can be of help in settling this dispute,"
answered the Samaritan mildly.

"This ain't no dispute," growled the man.

"No dispute? But tag dear friend!"

"I tell you it ain't no dispute," insisted the man. "She"—jerking his thumb toward the woman—"thinks she ain't gonna get my week's wages, and I know darn well she ain't. Where's the dispute in that?"

TRAINING FOR DIPLOMATS.

Former Ambassador Tower Advocates
Course in The Big Universities.

Charlemagne Tower, formerly ambassador from the United States to Germany, is an advocate of a course in special training for men who wish to spend their lives in a diplomatic career. In the Yale News, the official student organ of the university, Mr.
Tower recently made the following statement of his observations and advice:

"It is imperative that the United States should have men to transact business in other countries who are thoroughly capable of coping with any unusual situation or technicality that may arise and who are qualified to meet their diplomatic adversaries on a perfectly equal footing. To attain this standard all those who receive appointments to the service should be obliged to absorb a fundamental knowledge of the work which they are to undertake.

"It is only too often the case that the candidates who receive appointments are utterly ignorant of the rudiments not only of diplomacy, but also of systematic business methods.

"A very simple and practical scheme of remedying this matter would be to establish a course in diplomacy at the larger universities which would lead up to an examination for admission to the service. Just as is now required for entering West Point and Annapolis.
This would not necessitate an independent graduate school, but the instruction could be easily woven into the ordinary academic course, since the means are within the power of the larger institutions. The course would involve a study in French, German and Spanish, history and general knowledge of international law. Too much stress cannot be laid on a thorough knowledge of French, in which diplomatic transactions are chiefly carried on.

"The German system is far superior to ours. Only on obtaining the degree of Ph. D. can one be admitted to the foreign office. The course of study is thorough and broad, so that when the time comes for an appointment from the emperor the appointee is perfectly fitted for his duties. On the other hand, in the United States very often a man without the least qualification receives immediate appointment by reason of personal friendship or political obligations."

DRAWS FOOTBALL MORAL.

President Praises Harvard Fullback
For Sacrifice in Yale Game.

Ernest Ver Weib's brilliant work as fullback on the Harvard football eleven which defeated Yale the other day has been recognized by President Roosevelt, who has written a letter to Ver Weib congratulating him. The letter is as follows:

My Dear Mr. Ver Weib—Like every other good Harvard man, I have the heartiest feeling of gratitude for the entire team who won the great victory on Saturday last. But I feel an especial self gratitude toward you. It was through you more than any one else that the ball was put in a position to enable Kennard
to do the deed which he did so nobly
and to kick the goal from the field.

For the good of the team you individual good was sacrificed, and through this sacrifice and through the admirable work
you had already done and through Kennard's fine kick a victory was won. However it was a great victory and the interest of an individual being subordinated to the good of the team. There can not be any better lesson for our national life than to teach that the good of the individual must be subordinated for the good of the people.

Now I have the heartiest admiration
for Kennard's feat. He kicked the goal, and he did a service that no one else
could have done, and too much praise cannot be given him, but you are entitled to every bit as much, and every man I

To Brand Counterfeit Money.

The secret service at Washington,
after several years' of patient negotiations with the clearing house and banking associations throughout the United States, has managed to obtain almost unanimous action regarding the marking of counterfeit money handed to the receiving tellers. Practically all the big banking institutions of the United States have adopted rules requiring the tellers hereafter to stamp
"counterfeit" on all specimens of bad
money they receive. This will put it beyond the power of the owners of the counterfeit money to pass it on to unsuspecting persons after they have failed to dispose of the coins or notes
at a bank.

Just Before Christmas.

Now the butcher's boy smiles blithely as he meets you on the block,
And the grocer's boy gets busy with his cup,
And the janitor is careful your opinions
not to slack.

And the day's gone by he did not care
a rap.

Now the waitress asks you over if you'll
take a piece of pie,
And the fellow comes oftentimes before
you long.

While the cook gets so ambitious that
you ask the reason why,
And the housewife quite misjudged the girl, poor thing!

Next your relatives get busy, writing letters by the score,
Though you're not by any means a man
of much.

But you'll find it to remember that about a year ago

They were equally concerned about your letter.

Then a dancing seems to seize you in its vicious coils,
And an under-the-table perambulates your feet.

There's a reason for these favors which you seem soon to forget.

It is the fact that you are in New York Times.

Glassworkers,
A Word With You

Glassworkers should vote against the saloon because it is their worst enemy. The saloon has never benefited glassworkers. On the contrary, it has done great injury to them, causing many to lose their positions and bringing many to untimely graves. It works injury in another way. When people spend money for liquor, they spend less for the better food supplies that are put up in glass bottles and jars,
they will use less glassware on their tables, and they will live in smaller houses, so there must be less demand for glass.

The saloon is the chief cause of paucity, because, it wastes money.
When the greatest amount of money is spent for liquor and in the support of the saloon, a panic follows
and glassworkers as well as others, are laid off work. When less money is spent in saloons, good times follow, and there is more demand for glassware, for plateglass, and more work for glassworkers follows. If the money now spent for liquor were spent in other ways, there would be an era of unprecedented prosperity and glassworkers would find great demand for their work.

According to the U. S. census of 1900, it takes $837 of capital to keep one person employed in the liquor business. It takes only $600 of capital to keep one person employed in the glass business. And if the capital employed in the keeping of one hundred glassworkers at work
were to be turned into the manufacture of liquor it would give employment to only six persons. This would throw out 94 persons.

It is doubtful if any other manufacturing industry in the country has made greater efforts to install labor-saving machinery and throwing workmen out of work than the liquor business and the beer bottle works.

Vote against the saloon!

Yours truly,
(adv) UNION LABEL.

"IN A BAD WAY."

Many a Newark Reader Will Feel Grateful for This Information.
When your back gives out,
Becomes lame, weak or aching;
When urinary troubles set in,
Your kidneys are "in a bad way."
Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you.
Here is local evidence to prove it:
F. Liser, 39 South Fourth street, Newark, Ohio, says: "I am glad to confirm the statement I made ten years ago setting forth the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills. Before using this remedy I was a victim of kidney trouble and was caused much suffering from severe pains through my back. Stopping or the least exertion caused excruciating twinges to shoot
through my back and I often suffered miserably. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Crayton's drug store, gave me more relief than any other remedy I had ever taken. The pains in my back disappeared, the action of my kidneys was regulated and I have since remained free from the least trace of kidney complaint. I always speak a good word for Doan's Kidney Pills whenever an opportunity presents itself."

Reply to
G. R. Gosnell

REPLY TO G. R. GOSNELL
While a very limited few of the ablest class of our citizens take the position of G. R. Gosnell in opposition to driving the saloons from Licking county, it is no secret to this community that almost the entire circle of friends and neighbors
of our preacher (?) friend are heartily in favor of this temperance movement, that in 65 days has driven the saloons from 50 counties of Ohio. Considering the fact that Mr.
Gosnell after a connection of more than 30 years with the churches, not as a minister, of two leading demoni-ations, withdrew from the same, was instrumental in the building up of a church edifice of a minor denomination, which building now stands in Highwater with closed doors and an unfortunate heavy debt. Considering its unfortunate heavy debt,
it may be safely left to the community themselves as to the strength of the position taken in the influence of the author of the article in Thursday evening's daily. It is a safe conclusion that preachers in good standing and women of unsullied reputation, who stand for the saloon in this contest are scarce. It is another safe conclusion that after distributing wet literature in McKean township and interviewing farmers and influencing them to vote against the closing of the saloons, automobile 3201 received and carried to Newark the epistle referred to above
as produced by Gosnell and which is one of the crumbs of comfort the saloonmen now have in the last stages of their losing game. Finally, neighbors, remember the issue, shall the saloon go or stay? If you vote against Local Option on Monday you will have the approval of many brewers, saloonkeepers and div-keepers and gamblers of Licking county. Will you do it?

The profuse vomiting and pains in the head were checked and the principle pain she is suffering is from a badly sprained wrist. Dr. D. H. Will the prohibition agitators who go about the country stirring up county option elections, pay it? Not in a thousand years. They will be over in some other county, annihilating more tax revenue, when the time comes to settle. (adv) dtt wtt

LANCASTER PROFITS BY VOTING WET

Business Men Give Reasons For Mutual Satisfaction

Rebuking Prohibition Has Brought About Prosperous Conditions in the Fairfield County Capital

To the Voters of Licking County:

Elsewhere in this issue The Business Men's and Taxpayers' League of Licking county submits for your consideration convincing evidence as to the disastrous effect which prohibition has had upon the city of Coshocton.

We now turn to another phase of the subject, and present equally convincing testimony regarding the beneficial results which have followed in the city of Lancaster since Fairfield county voted "wet."

A representative of this association went to Lancaster and obtained the following statements of fact from leading business men:

Mr. Ed. H. Binniger, senior member of the firm of E. H. Binniger & Sons, dealers in dry goods and carpets:

"Business is better in Lancaster than ever before. We have many people from Perry county and Hocking county trading at our store now, since the county voted 'wet.' The morality of the town is better and there is less drunkenness. It was freely predicted during the county option campaign that Lancaster would be over-run by saloons and that every vacant store or room would be occupied by a dive or rum shop. Our election was held on October 22, but up to date there is only one additional saloon, and that is located in a room formerly occupied by a saloon. The saloon keepers of Lancaster, instead of growing careless after the 'wet' victory, have cleaned up their places and today there is not a disreputable saloon in the town. There is practically no idle labor. The Business Men's Organization has been made permanent and we look for it to do much good."

George Matt, president of the Business Men's and Taxpayers' Association of Fairfield county, and president of the Lancaster Electric Light company:

"I have read Mr. E. H. Binniger's interview and desire to say that his statement is correct in every particular. Our business is increasing."

John Gardner, of the Gardner & Hughes store, chinaware and tinware:

"We have had a good business and have been favored with many new customers since Fairfield county voted wet. The saloons obey the law and give us no trouble whatever."

Elmer Ruble, of Ruble & York, proprietors of the Mithoff hotel:

"Our hotel business is better than it ever has been. Our house is crowded and since our county has voted wet we are frequently compelled to turn people away. Many traveling men now stay over night in Lancaster, instead of getting away on the first train. They all report an increase in their sales to our local merchants. There is, if any thing, less drunkenness than before the election."

George Finner, manager of David son's drug store:

"Business is better than before the election. Many strangers come into the store who never traded here before. The morality of the town is good."

L. W. Rainey, ex-mayor of Lancaster:

"The business and moral conditions of Lancaster are better than ever before. Our merchants now get a large trade from the Hocking Valley which formerly went to other towns."

W. C. Smith, proprietor Hotel Martin:

"Our business has been very good for the past two months, and it really looks like old times around here."

Max Miller, of Peter Miller's Son's clothing and furnishing:

"We have gotten new trade from adjoining counties. Our town is in good shape."

Chris Keller, leading grocer of Lancaster, and president of the Lancaster Board of Trade:

"The moral conditions of Lancaster are better since the county option election. There is less drunkenness than ever, and as a consequence there is more respect for law and order. The retail business is better because so many adjoining counties are dry and people from these counties come here to trade."

C. H. Lexaner, mayor of Lancaster:

"I cannot say anything about the business conditions of Lancaster, but I believe they are good. The morals of our town have not grown any worse since Fairfield county voted wet."

Olem Miller, of the Gerhard & Miller company, clothing and furnishing:

"Business is good. I believe that we have the cleanest and purest city in the state of Ohio."

William E. Thimmes, of Thimmes Brothers, pork and beef packers and stock dealers:

"We own a 450 acre farm in Licking county and two farms in Fairfield county. Business is good with us city is clean and healthy."

Edward Mithoff, cashier of Hocking Valley National Bank:

"The morals of Lancaster always were good, and they have not grown any worse since Fairfield county voted wet. Business is in a healthy condition, so far as I can observe."

Philip Weiss, leading baker:

"Business is good, in fact, better than before the election. I am satisfied that the moral condition of the city is second to none in point of regulation, and drunken men are seldom seen on the streets. You cannot make this statement too strong."

In corroboration of the foregoing interviews the following news item is taken from the Lancaster Gazette of Monday, November 30th:

MANY SHOPPERS

CAME TO LANCASTER

Last Saturday—Merchants Are Satisfied With Out of Town Trade.

The police court is unusually quiet and there has not been an arrest since Friday night. This speaks well for the city government and shows that the saloon keepers are declining to sell to those who can not control their appetites.

Many out of town visitors were in Lancaster Saturday and many who came in, carried empty suit cases. These were filled with merchandise by many who came here to "shop," and all their money was not spent for booze either. Fewer intoxicated persons were seen on the streets of Lancaster Saturday and Saturday night than for many weeks.

An examination of the tax duplicate discloses that six members of the Business Men's and Taxpayers' Association of Fairfield county, pay more taxes than the 500 signers of the dry petition in Lancaster, combined.

Voters of Licking county, don't be misled by the wild statements of the prohibition advocates that Newark will be ruined by the influx of saloons and booze hounders if Licking county votes "wet" next Monday. The merchants of Newark never had a more brilliant opportunity than is presented now. If Licking county votes "wet" much of the trade that formerly went to Zanesville, Coshocton and Mt. Vernon will come to Newark, and these visitors will buy here other things than alcoholic beverages.

The time has come when the voters and business men of Newark and Licking county must profit by the experience of Coshocton and Lancaster.

Respectfully submitted,
THE BUSINESS MEN'S AND TAXPAYERS' LEAGUE OF LICKING COUNTY. (adv)

"We are sorry to state that since the Local Option vote was taken, not one order was received by this company for beer bottles as the breweries of course, are not inclined to place orders for beer bottles in a dry town."—Extract from letter of the Coshocton Glass Company published yesterday.

Don't you see the finish of the American Bottle Plant in this city?

Vote wet and save the plant to our city. adv

Suppose the signers of the county option petition in Licking county were obliged to make good in money the loss of revenue which prohibition would cause in this city and county, how many of them would have signed? All who signed are willing to make good the deficiency, may step right up to the counter and let the people know what substantial reformers they are.

INDIGESTION GOES IN FIVE MINUTES

IF YOU WOULD TAKE SOME DIAPEPSIN NOW, ALL INDIGESTION WOULD VANISH.

Why Not Begin Today and Rid Yourself of This Dread Misery of Stomach Trouble Forever.

The question as to how long you are going to continue a sufferer from indigestion and Stomach Trouble is merely a matter of how soon you begin taking Diapepsin.

If your Stomach is lacking in digestive power, why not help the stomach to do its work, not with drastic drugs, but a re-enforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally at work in the stomach.

People with weak Stomachs should eat Diapepsin after meals, and there will be no more indigestion, no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, no heartburn, Sour eructations, Gas on Stomach or Belching of undigested food, Headaches, Dizziness or Vomiting, and, besides, what you eat will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors. All these symptoms resulting from a sour stomach and dyspepsia are generally relieved, five minutes after eating one Triangule of Diapepsin.

Go to your druggist and get a 50-cent case of Diapepsin now, and you will always go to the table with a hearty appetite and what you eat will taste good, because your stomach and intestines will be clean and fresh, and you will know there are not going to be any more bad nights and miserable days for you. They freshen you up and make you feel like life is worth living.

PLEASE VOTE DRY

A Dry Glass Plant Town

Millersburg, O., Dec. 3, 1908.
Local Option Committee, Newark, Ohio:

In your local option campaign, you no doubt hear the wets say: "To vote a town 'dry,' kills it." If anyone in Licking county wants to know the facts let them come to Millersburg, which has been dry about five years, having voted so in March, 1895, and repeated it in September, 1907.

The county option election takes place December 22, with a petition of nearly 1,000 more than necessary, all secured in five days. Nearly 90 per cent. of the business men of the town are on the petition, and they are the pulse of business. The largest glass plant, making decorated ware in Ohio, is now being erected here, and the proprietors say they are delighted that the town is dry. There is not a vacant house to be had. The newcomers are many. New houses are going up as fast as carpenters can be had to do the work. Mechanics and laboring men who spent their all in saloons when they flourished here, are now paying cash for the necessities of life and some have nice bank accounts. So much for the financial side. The moral side far outweighs all else. The future of the boys and girls cannot be weighed in the balance with money. We feel sure that the good people of Licking county will not endorse breeders of iniquity in their midst and will vote to arrest the downward progress of the drunkard of whom the good Book says: "Cannot inherit the kingdom of heaven."

Ohio, what a responsibility rests upon us in our conduct toward our neighbor!

BACKED BY $100 REWARD

Voting Out Saloons Does Actually Lower Taxes.

There has never been a city or county or state that voted dry, in a normal financial year, that taxes were raised. If you know of one, write us. At the Columbus office of the Anti-Saloon League there is offered a reward of $100.00 to any person who will cite a case in Ohio of a town raising the tax rate on account of voting out of the saloon. There are a great many saloon keepers now who would like to earn $100.00. Here is an opportunity to do it. No one has claimed the reward because no place that can be found has raised the tax by voting out the saloon. Many have lowered it.

The Tale of Nine Towns

The following tables of the largest "dry" towns in Ohio show the net decrease in the tax rate after driving out the saloons:

Newcomertown, O., dry.....	4.5 mills in 3 years
Athens, O.....	.8 mill in 1 year
Washington C. H., O., dry.....	1.5 mills in 2 years
Barnesville, O., dry.....	3.05 mills in 7 yrs.
Wooster, O., dry.....	1.5 mills in 2 years
Wellsville, O., dry.....	2.4 mills in 3 years
East Liverpool, O., dry.....	1.2 mills in 1 year
Millersburg, O., dry.....	5.7 mills in 3 years
Jamestown, O., dry.....	4.4 mills in 6 years

We judge the future by the experience of the past. When saloons have been voted out taxes have decreased. When saloons are in (as the experience of Licking county shows) taxes have increased.

In answer to the plain statement of fact that the county infirmity is maintained by the saloon tax, the prohibitionists declare that there would not be any need of an infirmity, or of courts or police, if there were no saloons. Yet everybody knows poverty was in the world, law was necessary and protection against crime imperative, long before there were any saloons. The prohibitionist forgets this important fact, and in doing so misleads himself more than others.

Mrs. J. L. Dickers of Coshocton and Mrs. Anna Baker of Plainfield were the guests of Mrs. J. J. Hallisy last week.
The home and foreign missionary society met this week with Mrs. W. Woolever. A fine program was rendered and a very successful meeting was enjoyed by all. The annual public meeting of the society will be held in the church Sunday evening to which all are invited.

Every township in Licking county has the right to vote dry whenever it desires to do so, and some of the townships have already taken advantage of this privilege. That was in accordance with home rule, and when they did so the city of Newark did not participate in the result. It is not fair now, therefore, that outside townships should exercise over Newark an influence which the city has refrained from exercising over them. A "wet" vote in this campaign is therefore a vote for home rule and the "square deal" for all.

COSHOCTON SUFFERS FROM DRY POLICY

Manufacturers and Business Men
Protest Against Conditions

Result of Voting "Dry" Has Crippled
Kentucky, Injured Business and Left a Trail
of Disaster

To the Voters of Licking County:

A representative of the Business Men's and Taxpayers' League of Licking county while in Coshocton yesterday, gathered some interesting and valuable information relative to the conditions prevailing there, as a consequence of Coshocton county having been voted "dry." The information thus obtained is of such a character and comes from such trustworthy sources that it should constitute a convincing object lesson for the people of Newark and Licking county.

Mr. Albert F. Mitchell, the owner of two large grocery stores in Coshocton, was not at his place of business when the reporter called, but the latter was directed to his residence, a beautiful place on 4th st., where Mr. Mitchell was found confined to the house by illness. Greeting the representative of the press very kindly, Mr. Mitchell said in reply to inquiries regarding present conditions in Coshocton:

"I want to tell you, my friend, and I am making this statement without animosity toward any person, that my business at both of my stores since Coshocton county voted 'dry,' has dropped off at least 50 per cent, and if anybody should doubt the truthfulness of what I say, I am willing at any time to open the bank books and ledgers of both of my stores in order to verify this statement. The farmers used to come to Coshocton from a distance of 25 miles, because Coshocton was the only 'wet' city between Uhrichsville and Zanesville; they received good prices for their products and each one of them spent possibly 10 or 15 cents in the saloons, but left from $5 to $10 with the drygoods merchant, the shoeman, the clothier, the grocer, etc. Before Coshocton was voted dry any day in the week you could see the streets full of buggies and wagons, but today we have the hitching posts but no teams. The stalls in the livery stables that were formerly occupied by strange horses are full no longer."

"I know what I am talking about, and I defy anybody, no matter if his name is Meek or Donkey, to contradict my statement. I further predict that within two months the conditions will be far worse and hardly tolerable within six months. I understand that already two of our business men have given up and I don't doubt that there are more to come. I speak from experience, because I went through this thing once before in the city of Newcomertown, where I sunk $15,000 in real estate. I wish I were well enough to go to Newark and tell every business man in that city just what he will be up against, if Licking county goes 'dry,' and just what will happen in relation to the blind-tigers and bootleggers that will flock there as they are now in Coshocton. You can say for me, however, to the business men of Newark that if they have proper regard for their own interests they will not permit Licking county to vote dry."

AND YOUNG MECK, TOO.

Another prominent business man of Coshocton had the following to say:

"While I don't care to draw my conclusions just now as to why my business has been on the decrease for the past ten days, I will call your attention to the fact that even Mr. Guy Meek, the son of the famous prohibition apostle, J. F. Meek, has recently given up his clothing store and tailoring establishment since the town was voted 'dry,' and intends to say farewell to Coshocton and will, I am told, go west. I don't know whether prohibition has induced Mr. Meek to give up his business or not, but the facts are as I state them."

The reporter thereupon went to Mr. Meek's former place of business and found it closed. A lady who noticed the newspaper man trying the door, asked him if he wanted to see the owner of the store, and said that it was for rent. She stated that the owner would be glad to rent the place at a cheaper price than was formerly paid. The reporter then called on Mr. Guy Meek by telephone and verified the statement that he had gone out of business.

THE EXPERIENCE OF A HOTEL MAN.

Mr. C. W. Ball, proprietor of the Park Hotel, at Coshocton, and one of the most conservative and respected business men of the town, had the following to say:

"I have been in the hotel business for many years, and I was satisfied before the election that the patronage of my hotel would have to suffer if the town should become a victim of prohibition, but I never dreamed that the effects of a dry town would show themselves as soon and as disastrously as they have here. Not counting the income of my bar in former days at all, the other business of my hotel has fallen off during the past ten days between 10 and 15 per cent. I noticed this especially last Friday, when the traveling men, most of whom are Elks and formerly were in the habit of staying over Sunday here in Coshocton, to visit their Elk brothers, pulled out after they had been here a few hours and went to Newark or Columbus."

THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS LOST.

The writer approached Mr. B. Worth Ricketts, proprietor of one of the largest hardware stores in Coshocton, with the rather sarcastic inquiry:

"Mr. Ricketts, may I not congratulate you upon the fact that your business has increased since Coshocton county voted dry?"

"Well," replied Mr. Ricketts, "it hasn't increased so I can notice it. I expected that my business would fall off some after the county had been voted 'dry,' but if anybody had told me before that event that the percentage of my shortage would be as large as it was last week, the first week after the saloons were closed, I certainly would not have believed it. Furthermore, to show you what a blow this county option election has been to this town, and that it has lost us thousands of dollars, I can tell you that I know from reliable sources that the project of building an electric railway from New Philadelphia to Coshocton has been abandoned since both Tuscarawas and Coshocton counties voted 'dry.'"

Mr. Robert Caldwell, cashier of the Commercial Bank at Coshocton, was very conservative in his statement, but admitted that deposits had not increased since the town was voted dry.

FARMERS STAY AWAY.

Mr. Louis Brendel, one of the leading shoe dealers of Coshocton, said:

"My business certainly has not increased since we had prohibition, but just the contrary is the fact. I don't know whether the dry weather is the cause of it or the 'dry' people who invested so much money in liquor the last day our saloons were open. It is certain, however, that many of our farmers who used to come to town very regularly before we had prohibition, don't show their faces so often now-a-days. According to all precedent business should have improved when the cold weather set in, but this has not been the case."

CONVINCING TESTIMONY.

In addition to the foregoing truthful interviews, the representative of this association, who obtained them, also obtained a number of signed statements were either made by farmers of Coshocton, among which are the following:

The H. D. Beach Company—"Answering your inquiry as to corroborating statement recently made in Licking county to the effect that our plant was working capacity force and time, we regret to say that such statements were either made through ignorance or with the intention to mislead, for we are now running but five days a week."—The H. D. Beach Company, by H. L. Beach, treasurer.

The Coshocton Glass Company—"One of the first results of Coshocton being voted dry, was very characteristically demonstrated December 1, when one of the apprentice blowers of The Coshocton Glass Company, whose name is Warner Crawford, reported to work in an intoxicated condition, whereupon he was immediately suspended for one month. This man has been in the employ of this company for several years and worked to the satisfaction of the company; at any rate, he never reported to work before in such a condition."—The Coshocton Glass Company, by H. Liewer, president.

Lynde & Gosser, Clothiers and Flourishers—"Our business was 20 per cent. short on the first Saturday after our county went dry. This was caused by something."—Lynde & Gosser.

The Meek Company—"Replying to your inquiry, we have to advise you that the statement that the local option election has benefited our business, is entirely incorrect and without any foundation. While it is true that one department of our factory is working of nights just now, this is our regular practice during the months of November and December every year, in order to execute orders for holiday goods that must be shipped before Christmas. Our business for the year is considerably short of last year, and the year before."

This association desires to assure the voters of Licking county that the foregoing interviews and sworn statements are absolutely bona fide. The notes taken by our representative in obtaining the interviews, and the signed statements on the stationery of the various corporations and firms quoted, are in the possession of this organization and may be seen by any person interested who will take the pains to call at our offices in the city of Newark.

Respectfully submitted,

LOCAL OPTION LIE

In the Anti-Saloon Leaguers page of "facts" of December 4, 1908, appeared a statement that the Hoster Brewing company owned 11 dens of vice in Newark and would consequently furnish automobiles to help the wet cause in this campaign. This statement is a falsehood and in line with a great many of the other "facts" furnished by the Anti-Saloon League to hoodwink the voters. The Hoster Brewing company positively does not own a saloon in Newark.

TO CITIZENS OF LICKING CO.

There is more at stake in this Local Option campaign than the labor, drunkard, and tax problems, the ones most argued, and written in the papers.

It is a question of citizenship also. He is not a good citizen of Licking county, the state of Ohio, nor the United States, who will vote to uphold a power in politics that nominate for and elect such men into office in our government that break laws themselves with impunity, that do everything in their power to repeal just laws and prevent the passage of such laws that would restrict and control a disreputable business. Every wide-awake American voter knows that the saloon element with their sympathizers, together with the brewers and distillers' organizations, exercises that kind of power in our American politics.

VOTE DRY, AND ELIMINATE THE POWER FROM OUR POLITICS, thereby exercising the good offices and privileges of a law-abiding, liberty-loving, honest American citizen.

We have one office-holder in particular, who was elected into one of our city offices by this same power, who took the oath of his office to uphold the constitution of the United States, and the state of Ohio, and enforce the laws, and now disregards his solemn oath most unmercifully. That kind of men are worse than perjurers. They are dangerous to our American government. They breed anarchy.

Is this man in good standing in our community? Who has a good word for him; the honest patriotic citizen? No!

The brewer, distiller, or saloon-keeper? No! For these saloon-fellows use him for a tool and when they are through with him they will cast him into outer darkness, like they do with the rest of their tools.

Now it goes without argument, that there are thousands of men elected to public office in our land who disregard their oath of office and the law as much as does the man here spoken of, and who were elected by the same clique of beer and whiskey dealers and consumers—but men do not consume whiskey—whiskey consumes men. Men let us vote dry and clean out politics, and destroy that power that pollutes our parties and intimidates and bribes its men.

I say he is not a good citizen and lacks patriotism who fosters such a leach as the saloon power is on our politics and government. I believe in civic righteousness, honest administration of government, law enforcement, and clean politics. The saloon power never has, nor never will give us these things, but on the contrary make every effort against them. Therefore, I say, down with such a power!

There are enough good patriotic citizens in Licking county to overwhelm the saloon power at the ballot, if we stand on our dignity, are not deceived by the goblins pictured in the wet literature and speeches, and WILL VOTE DRY.

I know, and so do you, voter, if you really have at heart the interests of our great, noble, American country that the power of the distillers' and brewers' organizations and the saloonkeepers and their sympathizers in politics are a menace to our free, popular government.

Let us vote like good citizens and patriots, men. Let us vote right—vote dry.

In regard to the labor question in this campaign, the one where the saloons gain more sympathy than from any other cause, the evidence of benefit to the majority is against them for if we can stem the flow of gold—Seven Hundred Thousand Dollars in Newark—and turn it from the saloon trade into other legitimate business, this money will furnish labor to five men when it now furnishes labor to one, a scan be proven by official statistics on the subject, to the satisfaction of any unprejudiced man. Let us not be deceived. (adv) A NEWARK CITIZEN.

The people of Ohio have already lost in revenue the vast sum of $4,500,000 by reason of "dry" majorities in various counties, and at the same time the facts in regard to liquor selling and the statistics in regard to drunkenness show that nothing has been gained for real temperance. The people of Licking county are now asked to add more than $5,000 per year to this loss and assume it directly themselves. Can they afford to do it? (adv) dit-wit

$26,000.00 "WET" MONEY

ARRIVED IN NEWARK FRIDAY

TO DEBAUCH THE ELECTORATE

Four men, representing brewery interests, arrived in Newark Friday, with $5,000 each, $20,000.00 in all, to debauch and buy up the votes of Licking county for the saloon interests.

Citizens of Newark and Licking county, spot the "wet" committee-men and workers.

The Local Option committee offers $1,000.00 reward for the conviction of illegal practices. Get the evidence and report to Judge Seward.

The Local Option issue is won for the "drys" in this county if everyone of our voters are gotten out by the committeemen and "dry" workers providing the voters are not bought up like cattle and hogs.

Spot the criminals! Spot the saloon-workers! (adv)

JOINT DISCUSSION AT HIGHWATER WITHOUT ANNOUNCEMENT OR APPOINTMENT

Mr. Frank Fitzgibbon and Mr. John Scriver were up in the gas territory Friday working in the interest of the "wets." Stopping at Highwater, Mr. Fitzgibbon became engaged in a two hours' controversy as to various matters, largely aside from the question to be decided next Monday. Mr. Fitzgibbon was more concerned about a couple of bootleggers caught down in Coshocton than he was about whether the eighty saloons of Newark should have, from the people, a new lease of life to continue their hellish business. He talked about the drunkenness of Bangor, Maine, but not of the fact that there is more drunkenness in Newark and Licking county by far than in the whole state of Maine. He attempted to explain why Governor Herrick was defeated three years ago, but knew nothing about the Residence District Local Option law, the modification of which by Mr. Herrick's demand displeased the temperance people and caused Herrick's defeat.

Mr. Fitzgibbon argued that we are going to vote on prohibition, but when asked for the form of the ballot to be used he hummed and hawed and finally said that the question is "Shall prohibition be adopted?" A little later it developed in his mind that the ballot is: "Shall the bottle factory be closed?"

On the question at issue, the saloon, it seemed to be the feeling of the score or more present that Mr. Fitzgibbon, as one vigorously expressed it: "Was beaten to a finish." adv

LOWER TAXES--MORE BUSINESS--GREATER PROSPERITY

PRESENT ACTUAL BUSINESS CONDITIONS AT WASHINGTON C. H., OHIO. THE RESULT OF A "DRY" TOWN AS SEEN BY BANKERS OF THAT PLACE.

WISHING TO OBTAIN AUTHENTIC INFORMATION CONCERNING THE BUSINESS CONDITION AT WASHINGTON C. H., OHIO, WHICH FOR THREE YEARS HAS BEEN EXPERIENCING A SEVERE "DROUGHT," AND KNOWING THAT NONE COULD SO ACCURATELY MEASURE THE BUSINESS FACTS AS BANKERS, THEY WERE RECENTLY ADDRESSED UPON THIS SUBJECT. FRESH FROM THE GRIDDLER HERE IS THEIR PROMPT AND CANDID ANSWERS:

THE FAYETTE COUNTY BANK. Washington C. H., Nov. 23, 1908.

This town has been "dry" for three years, and the effect on the banking business, in our opinion has not been noticeable in either direction, and the storekeepers say it has been a benefit. Throwing so many business rooms on the market at once, did effect the renting value for a time, but that has corrected itself, and today I do not know an empty business building in town.

Strangers coming here remark how orderly and decent everything is, and it is in that particular, perhaps, that the change is most marked. That there is some "bootlegging" going on I have no doubt, but we always had law-breakers, and I presume, always will. This town has voted on this question four times, and ALWAYS WITH INCREASED MAJORITIES FOR THE "DRYS." I might also add that OUR TAXES ARE LOWER NOW THAN THEY HAVE BEEN FOR SOME YEARS.

Yours very truly,
ROBERT HOWAT,
Assistant Cashier.

THE WASHINGTON SAVINGS BANK AND TRUST COMPANY. Washington C. H., Nov. 23, 1908.

In reply to your favor, I wish to say that all kinds of business (except the saloon business), has been better in this town since it went dry than ever before. The families of the laboring man have received the benefit of the wages, the same being spent in legitimate lines of trade, instead of over the bar of a saloon. Last fall and winter when the "panic" was on our people here didn't know anything about it except what they read in the papers. There is, and has been more money deposited in our local banks since the town went dry than ever before. People have money in our banks now that were never known to have a dollar before.

OUR TAXES ARE LESS THAN WHEN THE TOWN WAS WET. AND IT IS SAFE FOR THE WOMEN AND CHILDREN TO GO ON ANY STREET IN TOWN.

To show you what the country people think of the saloon business, our county went dry nearly 1400 on October 31, ultimo, and that without very much effort on the part of the drys.

Yours very truly,
C. U. ARMSTRONG,
Secretary and Treasurer.

THE COMMERCIAL BANK, Of Morris Sharp & Company. Washington C. H., Nov. 23, 1908.

Responding to your favor, requesting our views as to the effect on business of the "dry" regime now and for three years past in force in this city, we beg to state that FINAN-CIAL CONDITIONS ARE DISTINCTLY BETTER THAN WE FOUND THEM UNDER THE OPEN SALOON SYSTEM. Merchants are increasing sales, collections are better, and bank deposits especially savings deposits, are increasing. We have watched the latter feature of our business with a view to gauging the probable effect on that department of eliminating the saloons. We can say after three years' observation, that more savings accounts have "stuck" during those years than we had been able to hold during the previous five. As to effect of elimination of saloons on public finances can say that with the exception of slight, but temporary derangement, no bad effect has been noted. PUBLIC REVENUES ARE AMPLE FOR ALL NEEDS. "Bonded indebtedness has increased slightly, but it is all accounted for by the street and sewer improvements and enlargements. Respectfully,

A. S. BALLARD,
Cashier.

Where Bullets Flow. David Parker of Fayette, N. Y., a veteran of the civil war, who lost a foot at Gettysburg, says: "The good Electric Bitters have done me more good than five hundred dollars to me. I spent much money doctoring for a bad case of stomach trouble, to little purpose. I then tried Electric Bitters, and they cured me. I now take them as a tonic, and they have kept me strong and well." 50c at Frank D. Hall's drug store.

THE QUESTION

There are only two sides To the "Great Question" of today, Shall it be the Right or Wrong way Which do you say?

Do you realize the danger Your own soul is in When you choose the "wet" side? You choose misery and sin.

Perhaps you don't drink, But there are hundreds that do. Are you saving your soul By watching them led to destruction and woe?

So when you cast your vote on Monday, next, Let Honor and Uprightness be your text.

Think of the mothers, children and wives, And do all in your power to brighten their lives.

MARATHON'S ITALIAN VICTOR.

Dorando Pietri Tells How He Won the New York Race.

That Dorando Pietri did far from what he is capable of in the Marathon race at Madison Square Garden, New York, Thanksgiving eve was his opinion as given in an interview to a New York World reporter the other night.

"Why, do you know," said Dorando, "while training I always run the mile in less than six minutes, but in my race with Hayes the majority of the miles required more than six minutes. 'What do I think of Hayes? I think a great deal more of him than I did in London, for 2:58 1/2-2:5, which was Hayes' time in England, is very slow for the Marathon."

"My policy was to keep ahead of Hayes all the time, and I had little trouble in doing so. At the beginning of the race I was a little nervous, as I always am, but I soon got over that, and after the fifteenth mile I knew that all I had to do was to keep cool. I did not plan to run away from Hayes until the last mile, and when the time came for the spurt I had plenty of speed left and could have gone faster if I had needed to. I didn't have much practice for the race. I ran only eleven times between the London and the New York race."

"Was I tired after the race? Oh, no. I sat up and chatted with friends until 2 o'clock and then got up at 7 in the morning and took a four mile walk after breakfast."

"I am ready to run Longmont or anybody else. I shall stay in this country for two months, and I want to get as many races as possible. Incidentally I want to see as much of the country as possible. I like America very much, and I was very much impressed with the splendid demonstration in my honor on the night of the race."

In response to a question as to how he explained his collapse at London Dorando said: "I had no attendants during the last two miles, and my throat was parched, and my head was so hot that I thought it would burst. But I am quite sure that I could have finished without help. The officials who lifted me up were my undoing. How long have I been running? Five years, but two of them I spent in the army."

Dorando Pietri is a fancy confederator by trade, and his home is at Carpi, in the province of Modena, southern Italy. His inseparable companion is his brother, Alpianto Pietri. Dorando weighs at present about 130 pounds and is about five feet eight inches tall. He says that he is much over weight and expects to train down to 120 for his next race.

SOCIETY'S TATTOO CRAZE.

Philadelphia Women Have Had Everlasting Blushes Attached to Cheeks. Hidden in an upper room of the exclusive Racket club in Philadelphia a famous London tattooer is now engaged in etching all kinds of designs upon the skins of Philadelphia's fashionable society folk.

His work is not confined to the masculine element either, and for that reason there is a real commotion. The artist's specialty is tattooing a blush upon feminine cheeks, the kind of a blush, it is said, that lasts forever and that nothing can dim. There are a couple of women who have had this done, but the prime cause of contention in the Walnut and Spruce street belt is the desire of certain debutantes and matrons to have various figures tattooed upon their upper arms, backs, and on the lower limbs. Dragon garters and interlacing snakes are the decoration most favored in the latter case.

SEEDLESS APPLES.

Effort Will Be Made to Propagate Them by Grafting.

A seedless apple tree bearing a sweet apple that looks something like the Sheep Nose has been found on the farm of C. E. Bell at Eskridge, Kan., says a Topeka dispatch.

Samples of the apple were received by the State Horticultural society, and next spring an effort is to be made to propagate them by grafting the buds from this tree, the same as grafting is done in other trees.

It is believed a variety of seedless apples will be developed. The tree on Mr. Bell's farm has been bearing three years. There is no sign of a seed, but there is a small core which apple men think can be entirely removed by careful propagation.

Heavy Clothes For Automobileists.

"One effect of the rise and growth of automobile has been to cause the woolen mills to weave fabrics for men's apparel of a most extraordinary thickness," recently remarked a Philadelphia importer. "I can show you samples of cloth of almost three times the weight of ordinary winter goods. They are made of such heaviness to give adequate protection to those who will not let the severest weather keep them from their loved diversion of motoring. For making up suits of such extra 'heft' the tailors of course have to charge a good deal more than for their customary output. Any fashionable builder of clothes will ask from $120 to $125 for a nobby automobile suit. One of this kind would last a man at least five years."

A Washington Joke.

Secretary Straus contributed this joke at the cabinet meeting in the White House the other day: "I have discovered that the reason the fathers of this republic fixed March 4 as inaugural day was because they meant that on that day many of the fathers should get orders to march forth into retirement."

The State of Ohio vs. Robert Wilson, caused by drink, cost, $559.

The State of Ohio vs. George C. Bell, cost $556.

The State of Ohio vs. George Rabbin, cost $629.

The State of Ohio vs. George Kerlin, cost $760.

The State of Ohio vs. Levi Beards, cost $1000.

THE LICKING COUNTY LOCAL OPTION COMMITTEE'S PAGE OF FACTS

SAVE THIS $800,000

In the course of his speech at the Armory on Wednesday night, Mr. Charles W. Montgomery said:

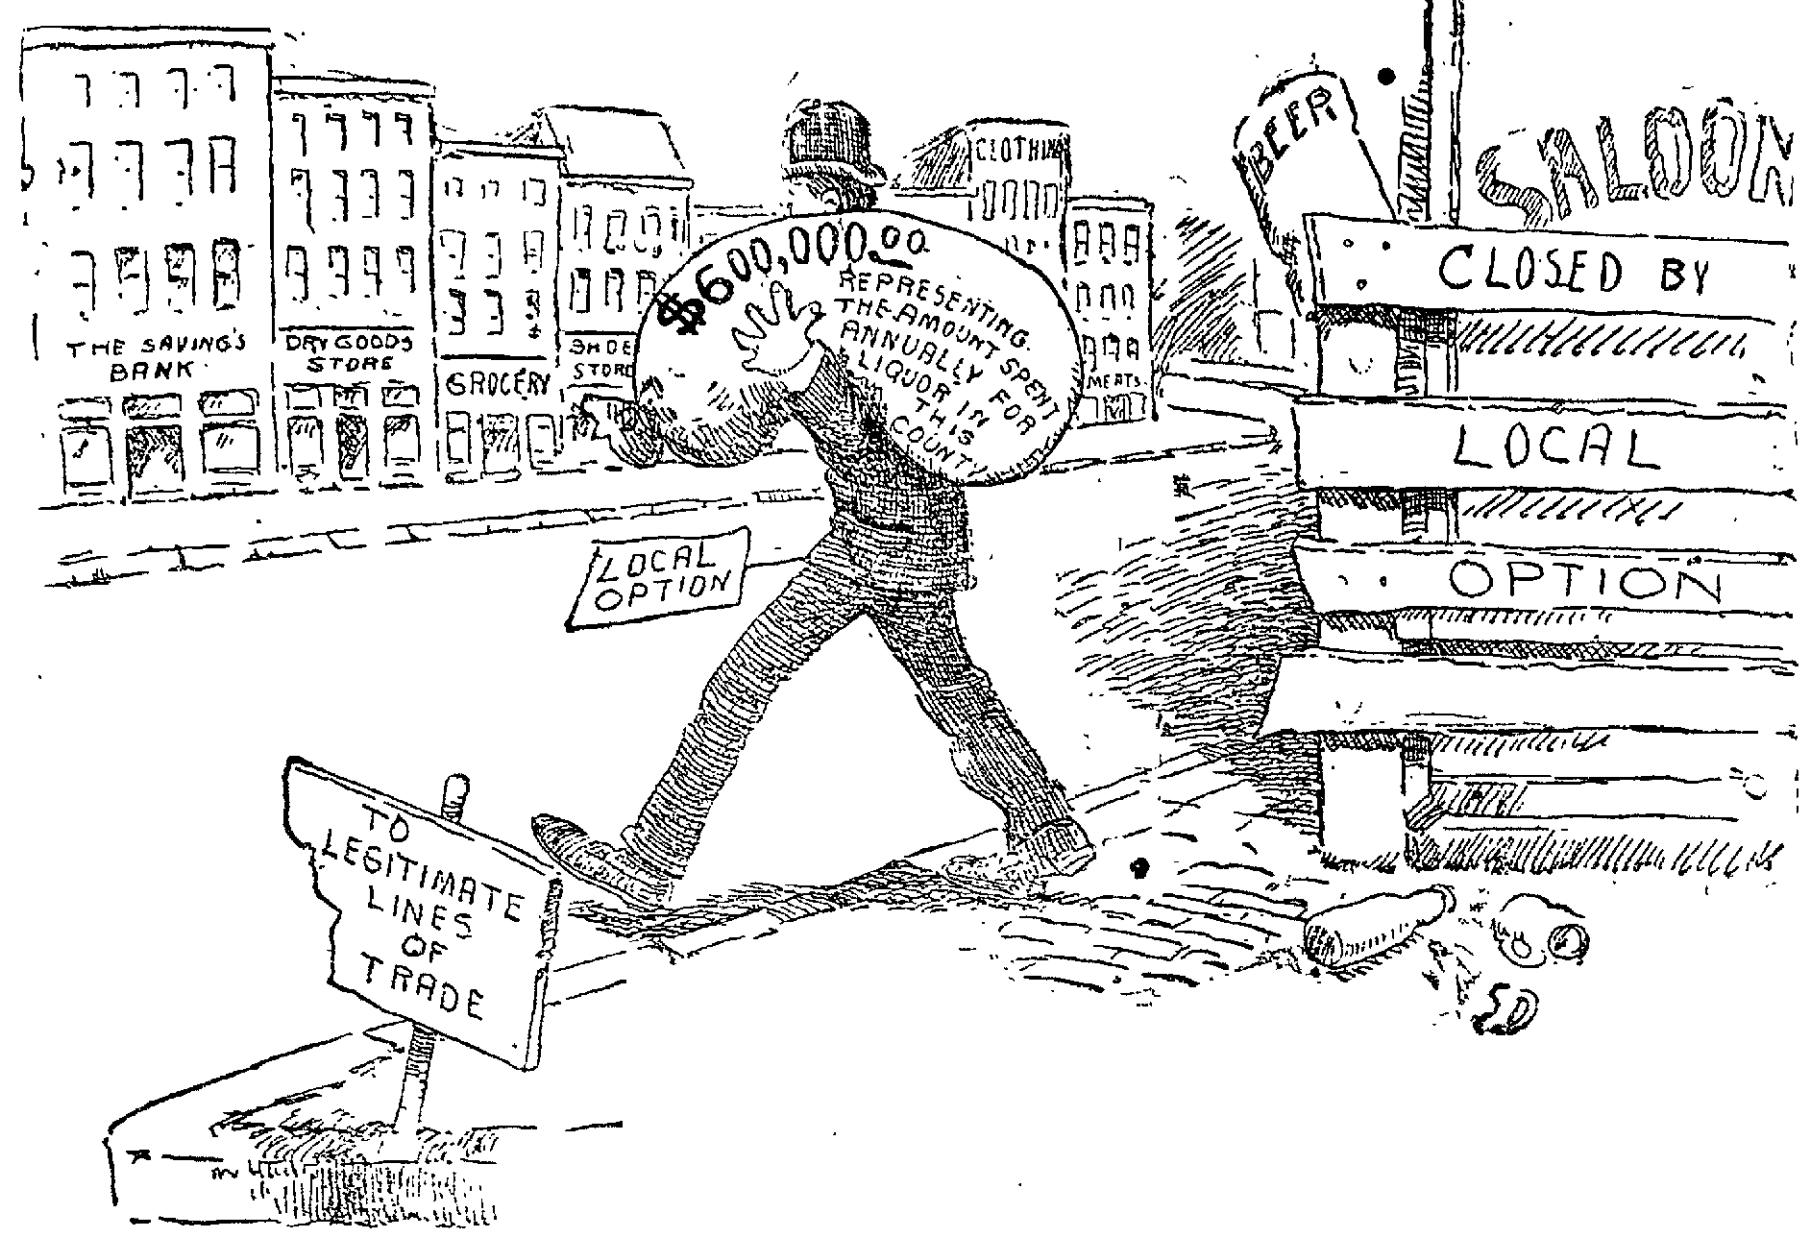

"Our opponents tell us that the voting of Licking county dry will work irreparable damage to both the property owners and the laboring men. I deny both of these propositions and I deny them from a simple economic standpoint. It has been estimated that the people of this county spend over the bars of our saloons the sum of $800,000 per year. If the saloons are removed from the county this $800,000 will be saved for other purposes. It will not be hoarded; it will seek an outlet. Those who have it will spend it. There will be a great demand for things of actual value, and there will be the demand produced by the $800,000 which the people have to expend. That demand will be supplied and to supply the demand there will be need of more business rooms and more men engaged in legitimate business so that the rooms which will be temporarily vacated by the removal of the saloons will be occupied by institutions furnishing things of actual value and supplying this enormous demand.

"They say that men will be thrown out of employment. Even though all these bar tenders would remain in the city of Newark and would not seek or find employment elsewhere we could in the same way take care of them. When business houses are started to supply the additional legitimate demands of the people there will be need of more clerks and more laborers to help supply this demand. When the saloons are removed I say that all men will have a chance to work and to work at something which produces, increases or distributes wealth instead of being engaged in that which simply consumes wealth and robs the people. The saloon is the only institution which does not give value received, and it is to the interest of the community to remove this institution and to install in its place business concerns which, to repeat, will create, increase or distribute a value, instead of destroying it or taking it out of the community.

"On the same day the taxpayers will be benefited, be sure with this $800,000 there will be more property and more valuable improvements. The more valuable the real estate of the city is, and the greater number of people upon whom the taxes shall be levied the smaller will be the proportion of the taxes paid by the citizens who pay the tolls.

"I also answer from an economic standpoint the proposition that the American Bottle Company will be injured by voting Licking county dry. I hasten to say that I do not pretend to know more about this business than the managers of it themselves. But I do insist that this institution, like all others, has to be considered from a business point of view with reference to simple economic propositions. When they say that they have 27 machines which make 13 bottles each per minute, making a grand total of 2,000 bottles each hour made by machines, they have themselves shown that the voting of Licking county dry will not affect this industry to any extent.

"It could not be injured in any other way except by the breweries boycotting the institution because it exists in dry territory. If there is anything in this I am willing to try it because of the very novelty of the proposition; for if there is anything in this world that exists not for sentiment, but for the money, it is the brewery. I say to you that if this American Bottle company can supply bottles more cheaply than any other concern, they will supply them, and if it cannot supply them more cheaply than any other concern, it will not supply them, even though we keep Licking county wet a thousand years. The breweries will go to the best market to purchase the bottles for which they may have need."

MR. BUSINESSMAN—we mean the real trafficker in merchandise of legitimate character—don't you want to divert this large sum from the unholy channels into which it is now flowing, and convert it to your own legitimate lines?

A vote dry means that your business will be larger in volume, richer in profits, and that you will employ more clerks and store help, and that your taxes will be equalized through lessening of court and pauper charges.

offered up daily and hourly. The Heavenly Father is touching their hearts, and hundreds of votes will be cast for the "Drys" next Monday that the "Wets" are now counting upon.

Watch the Saloonist's paid bribers, and don't let them score in your precinct.

You have just as much right to be "your brother's keeper" as the joint owner has to become the keeper of your brother's hard-earned wages. Exercise that right next Monday by putting your X at the top of the ballot.

Don't be carried away by "biffing-gate" and "hog wash," as dished up by the desperate saloonists in their paid newspaper advertising.

Eliminate the "crap" games, along with the saloons.

Look out for the bribers.

Hand it to them hot by putting your X at the dry end of the ballot.

Spanking teams and liveried coachmen for the gambling joint proprietors: rags and crusts for the victim's family.

Good idea: tax dodging saloonists throwing dust in your eyes about where the funds are to come from after you have banished their business from the county. The county auditor's office will show you that there are twenty-three saloonists dodging taxes on the stock, fixtures, etc.

Don't worry about putting a few men out of an illegitimate business; that same illegitimate business has been the means of putting as many competent men out of legitimate business, and caused wives, mothers and sisters to take the burden at the wash tubs.

Eliminate the saloonist and you purify politics.

The saloon is a "tarred stick." You can't handle it without getting pitch on your fingers.

Don't stay under the thumb of the whiskey rung; the octopus don't own you.

Stop kicking on John D., and take a fling at the booze joint man.

Run out the "bucket of snids" bartender who fills the little boys' and girls' pails with "batts" and a dash of "live" beer from the spigot.

Vote the saloons out and you'll not see little children with papa's empty whiskey flask, peddling them to the "barrel houses."

"He got to boozing, and we had to let him go," is the sad commentary too often heard.

Remove the cause and you will cure the evil.

Just look about you and see the men who are sliding down the grade through the baneful influence of the saloon, and see if you are not convinced that you should "remove the cause."

Save the girls from the wine room horrors.

Mr. Farmer, do you want your son to visit saloons when in town? If so, vote wet; if not, just rap the gilded dens of temptation by voting them out.

The bartender's diamond is paid for in women's tear drops. Heartaches vs. Dollars.

"We are entitled to protection and mean to have it," has always been the cry of the saloonist.

Speaking of punishment, fathers who have been punished nights without number pondering over the whereabouts of "My Wandering Boy or Girl Tonight," now is your time to punish your punishers.

That's it, punish the punishers, and even if you are a "punisher of booze," punish the fellow who has been punishing you by aiding and abetting you in that obnoxious form of punishment.

In a local option speech at Frazeyburg, ex-Prosecuting Attorney S. M. Winn, of Zanesville, said: "More than $5 per cent. of all the crimes that I prosecuted while in office were direct outcome of liquor."

The grey beards should vote for the abolishment of booze, that the beardless boys may be saved.

Every nickel spent over the bar takes that much out of legitimate business channels.

No saloons, no place to harbor the "tin-horn" gambling fraternity.

It's in the saloon that the devilment is hatched.

Anyway, compare the two sets of men, and the comparison is obviously in favor of the drys.

What an ordinary drinking man spends for beer and whiskey during the year, if placed in a savings bank or applied in payment on a property, would soon make the thoughtless man a land owner.

Every man is entitled to be well-dressed, have good, substantial furniture and plenty of well-cooked food. The average workman can not do this and feed his wages into the omnivorous maw of the saloon keeper. The saloon must go.

Give 'em a test of walking the floor at nights. They've caused lots of it for the wives and mothers of this generation.

Hop on the water wagon today.

Help the saloonist to get a legitimate job.

Put the drink money into real estate and own a home, rather than guzzle it away.

Might as well try to divert water up stream as to stop the wave for your judgment of his motives. There's many a poor fellow who wants to let drink alone, but while drink is spread before him he can't resist the temptation to dally with the bowl.

Punish the barman who punishes you through the medium of a son or father to whom he sells vile drink.

Look out for the man with booze in his pocket and the coin to pay for votes. He is amenable to the law.

Be early at the polls and assist your committeemen all you can.

When a man says that he can take a drink and let it alone, that man hasn't gauged his strength. He has been on the taking-a-drink side so long that he really don't know whether the letting-it-alone end is working or not. So he surmises, and jumps to mouth the conclusion.

Booze and boddie all along the rural routes today. Look out that it doesn't contaminate your precinct, Mr. Committeeman.

Vote dry for the sake of your boy.

Vote dry for the sake of your girl.

Don't get mixed on marking your ballot. Be sure to help the saloon out of business.

The saloonist that shows about the confiscation of his property has no scruples about confiscating all of the poor man's wages who drops in on Saturday night. He does not think of his hungry wife and children.

Make it "spotless town" by spotting the gin mills, the poker joints and lewd saloons all in one full sweep with your X on the dry spot.

When you are in close communion with yourself, the man with whom you sleep and live and eat 24 hours in the day, ask yourself this question: "Can I conscientiously vote wet, with all the evidence of whiskey's frightful work about me night and day?"

We agree with the liquor fraternity that there are two sides to the saloon problem—the right side and the wrong side.

No man or set of men should be suffered to defeat the will of the people on this supreme issue. Let every voter do his duty, as he shall answer to God.

Employers of men are not going to gainsay the advantages of a dry community, for they know that they will get value received for every day's pay invested in their workmen, with no whiskey nights ahead of them.

Blear eyes, grumpy tempers and empty pocketbooks are the results of the night before spent with the crap shooting game, drink guzzling, home wrecking game at the saloon.

It's the man who can't control his appetite that would best vote dry.

Wives of men who drink, pray to your Redeemer that your husband will be spared the bitter cup of the toper's slow, whiskey laden death by the voters of Licking county on next Monday.

Booze on his breath has lost many a golden opportunity.

The booze sign of one generation are visited upon the progeny.

Truth Tellers

If you vote "wet" next Monday, you vote in favor of draining this county to the dregs of its material resources of cash. Twenty-six of the saloons of this county are owned by outside breweries, and every dollar spent in them for drink and every dollar that they can rob off the men of this community by their gambling and slot machines is taken away from Newark. The Hoster Associated Brewing company, of Columbus, owns eleven saloons here. The Franklin Brewery company, of Columbus, owns five. The Weideman Brewing company, of Cincinnati, owns four, and the Terra Haute Brewing company, of Indiana, owns six. These twenty-six saloons are draining this community of at least $275,000 each year. Vote dry, and thus keep this $275,000 in Newark to help build up our own city.

vote wet, I'll give you a job tomorrow morning. Mr. Grigsby is a dry adherent, but did not tell McDonald so. However, Mr. Grigsby went to Mr. Taylor, member of the Board of Public Service and reported the matter to him, but it did no good, for "whole bunch" are controlled by the saloons in Newark. Mr. Taxpayer, if you vote for the saloons next Monday, you vote to still further fasten the death grip of the whiskey crowd upon your fair city.

A news item in the papers a few days ago stated that Portsmouth had reduced her police force by one-half. A telephone inquiry to Mayor H. C. Scary, of Portsmouth, resulted in the information that the police had practically nothing to do with the saloons out, and for that reason the force had been cut in two.

When you go to vote next Monday, remember the two murderers who are lying in the county jail, awaiting trial. Remember that the saloons of Newark are responsible for the two lives which these murderers took. Remember that the saloons of Newark are the cause of the large bill of expense which the taxpayers will have to pay. Remember that one of the victims who lost her life was a wife about to become a mother, and that the husband who had sworn to cherish and love her, took her life while insane from the vile drink which he had bought in a Newark saloon. Weigh up all these things carefully, and if you can find one good thing in favor of the saloons, then vote wet. If you find the great preponderance of evidence is against the saloon as an American institution, then go your duty as a man and vote dry.

When you go to vote next Monday, remember the twenty-three dishonest, tax-dodging saloons in Newark, who return absolutely not one cent for taxes on their fixtures and stock. Remember the fourteen other saloon proprietors who pay $25 or less each per year on their stock and fixtures. To go rid of these tax-increasing, tax-dodging holes of iniquity, vote dry.

Men and man, a drinking man in Newark wants to shake the "leech" off and have a chance to brace up and be a man himself, for the sake of his loved ones, and will go into the voting booth next Monday and cast a dry vote.

Thousands of silent prayers are going up to Heaven from the women of the city of Newark that the husband may vote dry next Monday. Mothers are praying that the sons may vote dry. Sisters are praying that the brothers may vote dry. Daughters are praying that the father may vote dry. The men of Newark know that these prayers are being clean living and saloonless towns, that is now the main issue with the American people.

It's the man who "nips" who needs the damper of a dry town put on.

Line up on the side of right and humanity by voting right and dry.

Gauzy notions upon, which to base polls Monday is all the saloon men have offered.

What a bugaboo that tax scare is.

Hundreds of men who are addicted to the drink habit will bless you for joining with them in putting the saloonist down and out.

Less police court news for the papers to parade in your home when the town goes dry.

Dinner pails will contain better eating when not used as a "growler" after the frugal lunch is disposed of.

Vote out the crap joints.

Down the gambling man.

Size up the clothes the bartender wears in comparison to those worn by his patrons.

Better see legitimate stores occupying the rooms made vacant by the town going dry than the red light places now extant.

In the "red light" district a man's life isn't safe after nightfall. Booze signers and gangsters infect that section.

Hand the barkeep a "lemon," so that he may go into the soft drink business with a stock on hand after next month.

You make the city clean by voting out the saloons.

No more wine-room horrors; no more young men finding the road to ruin yawning in their faces; no more homes broken, when the saloon is out of business.

Without the powerful influence of the saloonist, the wheels of justice work swiftly.

A campaign of personal vituperation and vilification has just been closed by the liquor people. They had to resort to this style of publicity because they had no argument.

The merchant is going to vote against the saloon because he knows that they are a standing menace to his trade. Clear-headed men pay their bills promptly, their families buy more and better merchandise and profits materially increase.

It is not what a man was, it's what he is trying to be, that should govern

THE SALOON MUST GO

The people of this city and county have surely had a good opportunity to see for themselves what the character of the saloons must be whose every argument in this campaign has been based on misrepresentation. Not one word of plain, straightforward truth has been used to defend them. And even then, after resorting to these dubious ways, the whole argument has had to turn on money. They long ago gave up defending the liquor business on moral grounds.

Now, lest we forget, let us recall some of these saloon perversions, in the hope that men of integrity who may, even at this late date, be willing to vote for the saloons on the ground of their paltry tax, may take heed to the counsels of wisdom that warn them of the danger of perpetuating an institution whose very breath is impurity, and whose foundation is falsehood.

And, first of all, let us ask the

Queer Arguments of Liquor Advocates

The saloonists claim that prohibition does not prohibit, that more liquor will be sold than ever. BUT AT THE SAME TIME IT WILL PUT EVERYBODY ENGAGED IN THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC OUT OF WORK—BREWERS AND ALL.

They claim that liquor selling makes a town lively, and that when a town goes dry more liquor will be sold than ever, but at the same time the town will be dead. THEY SURELY MIX MORE THAN THEIR DRINKS.

They tell us to enforce the laws we have, AND AT THE SAME TIME THEY WANT TO DEFEAT EVERY MAN RUNNING FOR OFFICE WHO STANDS FOR THE ENFORCEMENT OF LAW.

The people who tell us that the blind-tiger is worse than the licensed saloons are the very people WHO WILL TRY TO UPHOLD THE

BLIND-TIGER WHEN SALOONS ARE OUTLAWED.

Saloonists say that the Sunday closing law is good, YET THEY FOUGHT ITS ADOPTION, just as they are now fighting local option. They said the law would be a failure, there would be more drinking and more drunkenness than ever, and that it was an infringement against personal liberty to close the saloon on Sunday. They fought the adoption of the law forbidding sale of liquors to minors, to drunkards, and against keeping saloons open all night just before a local option election. BUT NOW THEY SAY ALL SUCH LAWS ARE GOOD.

They tell you to drink their beer and whiskey when you are sick—BUT WHEN THEY GET SICK THEY GO TO SOME FAMOUS WATERING PLACE TO TAKE WATER BATHS AND DRINK WATER TO GET WELL.

Be On Your Guard

It is an old political trick to spring "roorbacks" at the last hour in the campaign when too late to dispute the statements made. This practice is now practically obsolete, and is indulged in only when unscrupulous machine politicians get into desperate straits.

Such conditions exist now in the "wet campaign." Take a gang politician and the brewery and liquor interests, working hand in glove, and you have a combination that will not hesitate at any unscrupulous act to gain desired ends.

We call upon all fair-minded voters to be on their guard against stories which are sprung too late for reality, brand them on their face as false. There has been ample time to present all of the real issues in this campaign long before this hour.

Do not be misled, but vote DRY on December 7th.

THE SALOON MUST GO

The people of this city and county have surely had a good opportunity to see for themselves what the character of the saloons must be whose every argument in this campaign has been based on misrepresentation. Not one word of plain, straightforward truth has been used to defend them. And even then, after resorting to these dubious ways, the whole argument has had to turn on money. They long ago gave up defending the liquor business on moral grounds.

Now, lest we forget, let us recall some of these saloon perversions, in the hope that men of integrity who may, even at this late date, be willing to vote for the saloons on the ground of their paltry tax, may take heed to the counsels of wisdom that warn them of the danger of perpetuating an institution whose very breath is impurity, and whose foundation is falsehood.

And, first of all, let us ask the clean lived men who expect to vote wet: Would you be willing that your daughter, in her teens, visit the saloons of this city as she does the bookstores or the dry goods stores? Would you? Would you feel that she was safe there?

No.

But perhaps you are inclined to reply that that is because of her youthfulness and innocence.

Very well. How about your wife? Would you love, honor and cherish your wife if she visited the saloons as she does the grocery or the market? Of course not.

There is not a man in Newark who would not fear for his wife or daughter who did these things.

Then, men of Newark the saloons are doomed, no matter how you vote. An institution that is so dead set against the home as this, cannot live among a people who love their wives and children.

THE SALOON MUST GO.

LANGUAGE ASSOCIATION

Held Regular Meeting in Burton Hall with Large Attendance.

Visitors at Granville Greatly Impressed with Town's Enterprise and Attractive Appearance.

Granville, Dec. 5.—The Language Association held its regular meeting in Burton Hall on Friday afternoon, with a large attendance. The program consisted in the main of an exceedingly interesting paper by Victor Hoppe on "English Poetry." He said that English poetry possessed four qualities, "picturing the beautiful," "phrasing," "metaphors," and "elevated spiritual thought." The paper was listened to with the closest attention by all who were so fortunate as to be in attendance. It was decided to name Paul Elmer Moore, who is the literary editor of the "Nation," of New York City, to address the association at its meeting to be held in January. It was also announced that J. W. Hoppe of Akron, a brother of Mr. V. A. Hoppe of Denison University, will give a reading in Burton Hall on next Saturday evening. Tickets for the entertainment will be on sale Wednesday, the price being ten cents. The sturdy pioneers of Granville and Granville township, how few of them are left. Many of those who were prominently identified with the town's early history and growth have passed away. And what a grand lot of men were those whose energy has helped to make this township one of the very richest in all the great state of Ohio. Granville has need to be proud of its splendid citizenship, those who have made the town what it is and whose descendants are a part of the most progressive educational center in this part of the state. Visitors seldom or never come to Granville without expressing admiration for the town's attractive appearance and spirit of enterprise made manifest in many ways. This week Granville was visited by Lieut. Henry Morgan of Cleveland, who found much to admire in Granville, and to which he was pleased to refer as "the most beautiful college town in Ohio." He has never before visited a town of this size, that was found to be so admirably equipped in all that goes to make a town. He was of the opinion that it was a good place in which to live.

At the Methodist church Sunday regular services will be had. In the morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. W. H. Miller, the pastor, will preach, and there will be no services in the evening on account of the union service to be held at the Baptist church. At 8:30 a. m. there will be class meetings followed by Sunday school at 11 a. m. Junior League meeting will be held at 2:30 o'clock. Epworth League at 6:15 and prayer meeting on Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

Among the many visitors to the village during the past week, were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dury, former residents of Licking county, but who, for many years, have been living in Iowa. They expressed great surprise at the many changes that have taken place in Granville since they last visited it some twenty-five years ago.

The following invitations have been received by friends:

Regular services will be held in St. Luke's Episcopal church tomorrow, conducted by the Rector, Rev. A. Ramsey. There will be a sermon in the morning at 10 o'clock and Sunday school immediately thereafter. On account of the union meeting to be held at the Baptist church there will be no service in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Simson of Bucyrus, O., were in the village Friday for a short time.

Miss Ella Buchanan, a charming young woman of Malta, O., who has been visiting here for a few days, returned home Friday.

After a pleasant visit of a week in the village, Morton DeWees has returned to his home in Sandusky.

William J. Bryan is mourning the loss of a son, and the news reports say that he narrowly escaped serious injury from one of the brutes which he had wounded the other day. In case Licking county should go "dry," Mr. Bryan can come here and hunt tigers to his heart's content, without danger, because they will all be blind.

CRUEL SLANDER MARKS CLOSE OF CAMPAIGN

A Warm Reply to the Circular Letter of Professor Simkins

Deep Resentment Felt Over Misrepresentation of Conditions in Newark--Mem- ber of Press Committee De- fends the City

To the Voters of Licking County:

As an evidence of the despicable politics resorted to by the county option managers, the latest is a letter mailed to every voter in Licking county Friday evening and signed, or purporting to be signed, by Supt. J. D. Simkins, of the public schools of this city.

It is mailed as an eleventh-hour roorback, at a time when it is impossible to get back with the facts so as to reach the voter before the election on Monday next. It was also sent to the farming people in the country, and if it has any effect whatever it is intended to array them against the city people. This in itself is reprehensible, as there is no breach between them, or was none until it was made by this present crusade and the men who are behind the prohibition movement.

The letter is mailed on the stationery, and therefore pretends to have the authority of the Ohio Teachers' Association. In a word, without leave, they have dragged that honorable organization into the mire of prohibition politics and have attempted to commit the state organization into the mire of prohibition politics and have attempted to commit the state organization to the act of sending the country people a lot of stuff unworthy of general publicity and such as will not bear investigation. It is sincerely to be hoped that Superintendent Simkins has been misled, although the stationery of the organization which has honored him is used and the letter bears his autograph in fac simile.

It is presumably a letter written to Mr. John Fry, an esteemed resident of Eden-Palmsbury townships, and a boyhood friend of the writer, who was also born and reared in that locality. The letter felicitates Mr. Fry on having been born and brought up in that section rather than in Newark, where the writer pictures conditions so bad that it is claimed to be possible in Newark only with the greatest efforts, to rear a girl without having her lead a life of shame, or a son without raising a drunkard. Mr. Simkins says: "If our girls do not lead a life of shame they will marry drunken boys," and also, "I saw several school boys drunk behind one of the school buildings." The Superintendent further continues, "If we had been raised in Newark, we would now be drunkards."

With the spirit of the lowest and meanest slanderer and assassin of character, these statements are a reflection upon all sober and industrious people of Newark, but especially upon the eminent men who have boasted Licking county as the place of their nativity and where they were reared. It is a cowardly assault on the character of such men as Mr. A. S. White, at the head of the salt making industry in the United States, and a cowardly assault upon the masterful builders of the largest stove plant in the world and one of the largest glass plants on earth. It is equally an assault on the life and character of such men as Norman Buxton, William A. Ashbrook and John S. Jones, among the living, who were raised close to Newark, when conditions were worse and more open than now. But these are not the only eminent men turned out by Newark and who did not become drunkards. There was Edward Wehrle of New York City, and among the dead are General Charles B. Woods of Civil War fame, his illustrious brother, Judge William B. Woods of the United States Court of Georgia, Hon. Gibson Atherton, who was honored on the floor of Congress and on the supreme bench of Ohio, and Willoughby Miller of Berlin, Germany. But I forbear; the Newark men who have led honorable lives, and have grown to destruction, are legion. It seems a pity to awaken their shades, if it has to be, in order to rebuke a foul slander uttered by some parties who seem to be without the sense of shame.

Such slanders will not bear the light and are only designed to affect the uninformed. The one now under consideration is a reflection on the living and the dead and has not one iota of truth to redeem it. It is a misstatement from start to finish, or it would not have been uttered at the last hour and too late for the limelight of truth to fall upon it.

Newark is one of the best cities in the world to live in and rear a family in. It has produced more than its proportion of great men, and a man who grows up here is not a drunkard, nor is a woman raised here in danger of evil. The towns seems to be a good enough place for the writer of the letter referred to, who draws a salary of $2,200 per year and gives the lie to the sentiments of his letter by rearing his own family in this city.

Very respectfully,
MEMBER OF THE PRESS COMMITTEE.

RAILWAY AFFAIRS

Pennsylvania railroad officials in Pittsburg are confident that the controversy with the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers will be adjusted, and claim that reports of a general strike have been greatly exaggerated. Members of the Brotherhood in this city, although reticent, say that they do not expect any serious trouble.

Horrors of wrecks will be lessened and the safety of the hard-working railway postal clerk conserved by new train equipment which the Pennsylvania has just put in service on its main line. Trains Nos. 21 and 20, the heavy morning and evening trains of the Pennsylvania system, which carry an enormous quantity of mail, now have as a part of their equipment steel postal cars, the first to be put into service by the Pennsylvania west of Pittsburg. The cars are of the most substantial steel construction known and are fireproof. In a railroad accident, especially in a collision, postal clerks generally are caught in the wreckage and burned. The number of fatalities among this class of railroad men is very large, and efforts have been made to lessen the danger. The cars have concrete floors and are electrically lighted by an axle device. They will run between St. Louis and Jersey City.

More than $85,000 is annually derived from the liquor tax in Licking county, to help pay the expenses of government, state, county, township and municipal. If this tax is wiped out an equal amount must be raised by some other method of taxation, and every man of common sense knows this to be a fact. Those who deny it are fanatics without experience, or fanatics without judgment.

OUR NEW HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

It was our good fortune of making a brief visit of inspection of this building just after its completion, and was more than pleased with its completeness in every way. The general arrangement of the building for convenience as well as adaptiveness for the needs desired, is an ideal one. The new High school hall, with a seating capacity of a little over a thousand, is certainly an elegant affair. The lighting, ventilating, as well as acoustic properties are all that could be desired. We are credibly informed that the one plate the building is a telescope to be thing most needed at this time to complement in the dome of the new building. It is to be hoped that some well-to-do citizen of our city, will be philanthropic enough to present one to the city. The new hall we are informed, will be named after the donor of a telescope. We do not think our people fully appreciate this beautiful building. It has been built with the greatest care and our energetic superintendent, Mr. Simkins, Prof. Williams, and our efficient board of education are to be congratulated for their untiring energy in pushing the building to completion.

It is to be regretted that space does not permit us to make a more extended notice of this beautiful Queen Ann structure. It is not only a credit as well as an ornament to our city, but reflects great credit upon the architect, as well. Long may it stand as a lasting monument dedicated to the cause of higher education.

TO THE PEOPLE OF LICKING COUNTY:

The Businessmen's and Taxpayers' League of Licking County urge upon all persons the propriety and spirit of fairness and regard for law and order during the county option campaign throughout the county. Some unfortunate incidents have occurred on both sides of the controversy, and they must be greatly deplored by all persons who have at heart the best interests of the city and county. This association earnestly hopes that there will be no repetition of them.

Let public order be preserved and a fair and open hearing be given to all public speakers on both sides of the question at issue. This association is endeavoring to conduct a clean and honorable campaign, both in the public press and on the stump, and it solicits universal cooperation in making the remainder of it worthy of the good name of Newark and Licking county.

Respectfully submitted,

AND TAXPAYERS'

Mr. Property owner you have paid for the street pavement in front of your property. How would you like to be called upon to keep the pavement clean and in repair? You would be very apt to object and ask why the city shouldn't do it. If the city hadn't the money, you would know the reason.

In Zanesville, which is now enjoying the experiment of prohibition, that is one of the measures proposed in order to curtail and economize on the expenses of the city.

If you didn't have a horse and did not therefore in any way contribute to the dirt and filth of the street, you would doubly object, wouldn't you?

Don't you think there are too many experiments involved in this prohibition experiment? Hadn't we better try it on the dog? In other words, let's see how it works in Zanesville. adv

Bath and Lounging Robes for Xmas at HERMANN, the Clothier.

The people of Licking county, like all the rest of the American people, are willing to make sacrifices for the public welfare, when such sacrifices are necessary. They did so during the Civil war, and again to pay the expenses of the Spanish-American war. Now, however, they are asked to vote themselves out of needed revenues and assume new burdens of taxation, merely in order to support an imaginary prohibition of the liquor traffic and open the doors of the country to the speak-easy and the boot-legger. Indications are beginning to multiply to the effect that our people have too much common sense to adopt this policy. (adv) dlt-wlt

A FINAL APPEAL TO ALL FAIR MINDED VOTERS

$100 Reward

To the Voters of Licking County:

Our plant in Newark has cost us thousands of dollars. Some of our stockholders are not in a position to sustain a financial loss. Is it HONEST to ruin our plant and destroy our investment?

We are not making this appeal to the rabid prohibitionist. He is unreasonable in all things; but we are appealing to the honest, fairminded citizens of the city who, we know, are vastly in the majority.

If the United States Government would decide to take possession of the railroads of the country, oust the owners and assume proprietorship, or should decide to confiscate all the property of these railroads, would you, as honest citizens approve of such a course? Wouldn't you demand that the owners be paid a fair price for their property? Wouldn't you say that the men who risked their money in railroads, thereby contributing to the growth and prosperity of the nation should be paid before the property was destroyed or turned over to the Government?

Wouldn't it be the course of HONESTY and JUSTICE to do this?

It is said that some of the men engaged in the liquor business violate the law, and therefore no regard should be had for the property or investments in that business.

That is the chief argument used by our opponents, who say that "these men have brought this agitation upon themselves," and that if the saloon were regulated they would vote with us.

Have not some of the large corporations of the country operated their business in total disregard of law? Haven't they been the most flagrant violators in the land? Yet would you take possession, confiscate their property, without pay, because some corporations have violated the law?

Would it be honest to do this?

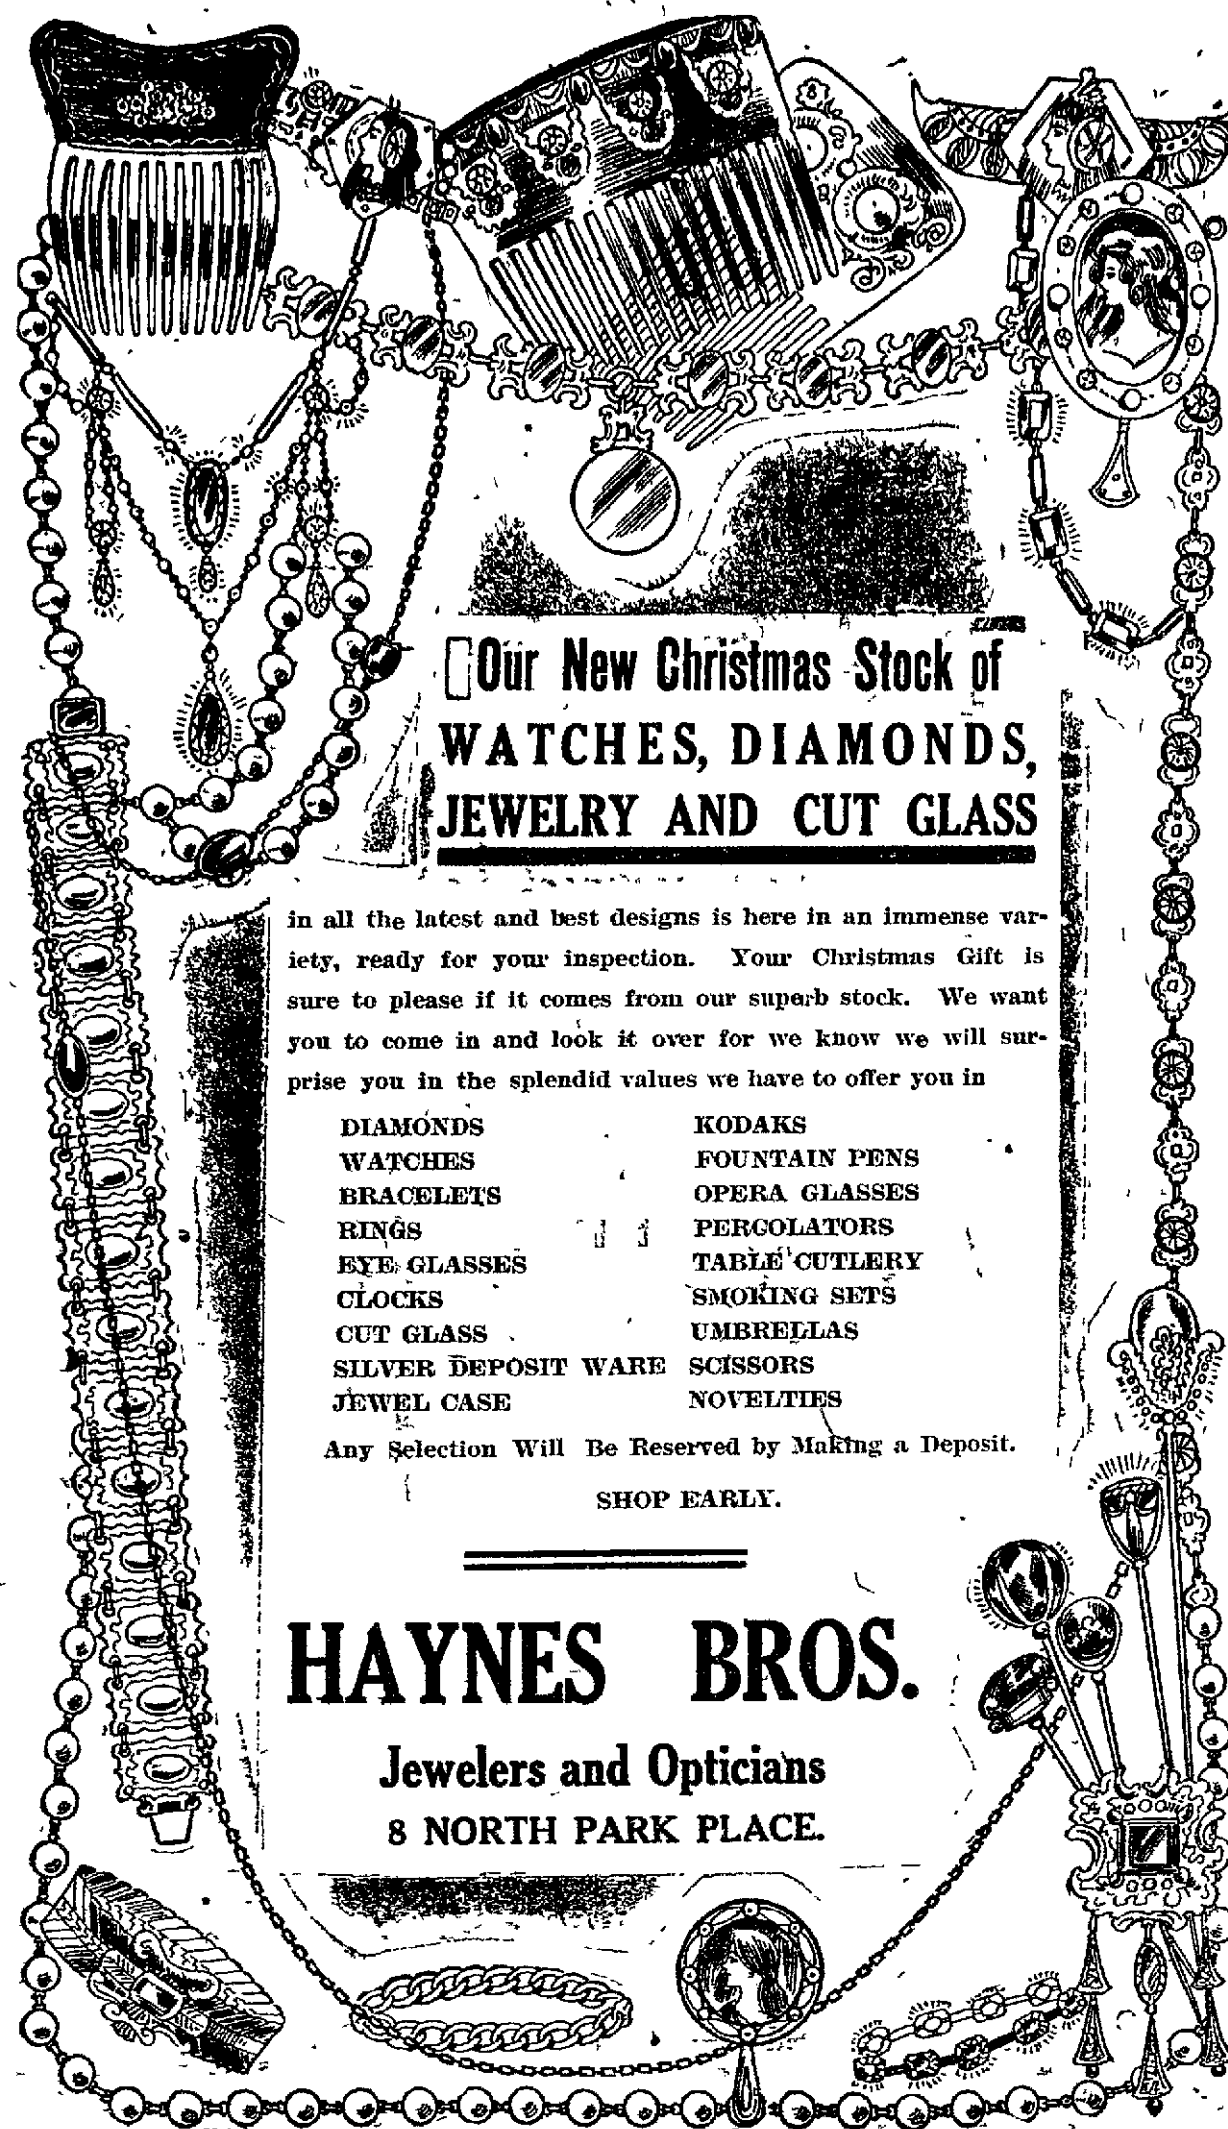

It has been charged that we own 22 saloons in this city. This is a lie. This company will pay $100 to any one furnishing any kind of evidence in support of this statement. The records in the Court House as well as the records at the collector's office, Athens, Ohio, will show that this is false in every respect. Yet this is a single sample of the campaign waged against us.

By your votes Monday you will say whether our plant which represents our money and our energies, which we, at all times, have conducted honestly and honorably, which has contributed to the prosperity and growth of our county and city, will be wiped off the business map of Licking County.

We appeal to the honest, fairminded citizens of this county if we deserve this treatment.

Respectfully submitted,

LAST TIE IS SEVERED

Books Carried From Old Lingafelter Bank to Vaults of Newark Trust Company.

The last tie was severed, Thursday afternoon, connecting the Homestead Building and Loan company with things real in Newark, when Joseph N. Pugh, the receiver for the Lingafelters moved all the books of the defunct institution from the old vault in the room now occupied by Sachs Bros. the tailors, North Second street, to the big vaults in the basement of the Newark Trust company.

Ever since the bank collapsed the books have been kept in the vault in the room once occupied by the banking institution, but as the books were numerous and large, more space was required for handling them. Part of the vault of the Trust company was rented, and late Thursday two wagons, loaded with the books, backed up in front of the Trust building and the old records were carried probably to their last resting place in the underground, steel-lined vault.

If anything were to be gained for temperance by voting the City of Newark "dry" against the will of the majority of the people who reside here, they might be willing to submit gracefully to the inevitable. But when such a vote will only expose this city to the lawless operations of the speak-easy and blind-tiger it is hardly just for the voters living outside the city to require the people who live here to make such a sacrifice for nothing.
